over the Dixie FM network, and in the "Young America" series. In addition, she has made a name for herself as the first girl control operator. Carter Hibbard is played by Donald Pike, who also did an outstanding job in "The Land Is Bright." Other plays he has been in include "Cinderella," "Janie," "Seventh Heaven," and "Our Town." He took part in the Tobacco Network production of "The Ghost of Benjamin Sweet," and in the program "Deadline for Living."

Tolochko Plays

Marilyn Tolochko was first seen in "Snow Bound," and has since appeared in "Heaven Can Wait" and "Our Town." She now returns to play the part of the secretary, Sophy Prescott. She has been on several radio programs, including the "Young America" series and "Legend of Dust." She has also directed three programs, including one which was broadcast over the Dixie FM network. Josephine Jackson portrays the part of the southern girl, Emmy Paige. She has previously been seen in "Janie," "The Shepherd's Song," and "The Land Is Bright," and has taken part in the Dixie network shows "This Obscene Pomp," "Legend of Dust," "The Key," and "The Test," and other shows including the "Young America" series. The part of Belle Hardwick is played by Patsy Donnell, who made her debut in "Snow Bound," and has since appeared in "Ramona," "The Shepherd's Song," and "The Land Is Bright." Her participation in radio shows include parts in "Legend of Dust," and "The Devil's Flower."

Denmark as Mrs. Creevey

Betty Denmark, who will be remembered for her parts in "Ramona," "Land's End," a prize winning play at Chapel Hill, "Bethlehem Road," "Nothing But the Truth," "The Shepherd's Song," and "The Land Is Bright," returns to play the part of Mrs. Louella May Creevey. In addition, she has been in the radio shows "The Key," "The Test," and the "Young America" series. The president of the Goldmasquers, Jerry Sandford, plays the part of the young senator, Gordon Keane. Jerry has made quite a name for himself both on the stage and in radio, having appeared in the plays "Treasure Island," "Bethlehem Road," "Seventh Heaven," "Land's End," "Our Town," "Nothing But the Truth," "The Shepherd's Song," and "Brief Candle," and the radio shows "Legend of Dust," "Tell Tale Heart," "The Key," "The Test," and a number of "Slate Notes" and "Young America" programs.

Davis Byrd, business manager of the Goldmasquers, has also had an outstanding career. He has been in "Bethlehem Road," "Land's End," and "The Shepherd's Song."

Most of Davis' work, however, has been in radio, where he has taken part in "Legend of Dust," "Tell Tale Heart," "The Test," has recorded a program for the national Boy Scout headquarters, and has both directed and taken part on "Slate Notes" programs. In "First Lady" he plays the part of the newspaper man, Ellsworth T. Gaining. Most of Charlie Crone's work has been as a technician. His first stage appearance was in "The Land Is Bright," and he now plays the part of Senator Tom Hardwick.

Hill Leaves Control

Bobby Hill leaves his control board, where he is head student engineer, to play the part of Jason Fleming. Bobby has been on sound for a number of radio shows and plays, including "Janie," "Gold Is Where You Don't Find It," "Seventh Heaven," "Little Red Riding Hood," "The Visitor." He has also shown his acting ability by appearing in the plays "Our Town," "Nothing But the Truth," and "The Land Is Bright," and the radio programs "Judgment Day," "Deadline for Living," and several of the "Slate Notes" and "Young America" programs. Ed Strickland, who only recently began his dramatic career, plays the part of George Mason. He was previously seen in "The Land Is Bright," and was on "The Test."

After appearing in "The Visitor" and "Nothing But the Truth," Mary Bumgarner returns to play Mrs. Mary Ives. Bill Elliott plays the part of Charles, the head butler. He has been in "Bethlehem Road," and the program "The Devil's Flower." Most of Erline Griffin's work has been as costume mistress for plays. However, she took time out to be in "Snow Bound," "Cinderella," and "Bethlehem Road." She was on several of the "Young America" programs and directed "Three Strikes You're Out." In this play Erline portrays the part of Ann Forrester.

Two Guests

Tommie Crocker and Barbara

Hood play the parts of two of the guests at a tea. Most of their previous experience has been on lighting, properties, and make-up, although Tommie has appeared in "Cinderella," and Barbara in "Our Town." Victor Herring, the second butler, has previously been in "Bethlehem Road" and has taken part in a couple of radio shows. Bleecker, another butler, is played by Joe Bazemore. Joe was in "Heaven Can Wait," worked on the stage crew for plays, and participated in the "Young America" series and "Three Strikes You're Out."
