

Seniors Rejoice When Essays Are In For The Year

by John Thompson

If you were walking down the corridors of GHS and heard a cry of joy, you could bet your bottom dollar that the person who cried out was senior.

The senior essay was quite an undertaking and it caused many a heartache. This cry heard was probably that of a relieved senior when he handed in that long, struggled-on essay. In my case, when I finished that "masterpiece" of literature, I jumped up, kicked my heels, and shouted with supreme satisfaction.

Sophomores Hold Outing As Year Nears Its Close

What an afternoon the sophomores had week before last! Members of the sophomore class had a picnic at Camp Tuscarora.

The students left immediately after school in cars driven by Ashton Griffin, Walter Culbreth, Les-

Teachers making the trip were: Misses Rachel Brooks, Geraldine Jones, Emma Lou Garner, Kathleen Mills, Charles Doak.

Upon arriving, some of the students went swimming while others played a game of softball. Miss Garner's team was leading Miss Brook's, when the game was in-interrupted by someone yelling "eats." Due to this interruption, the game was forgotten. The food consisted of: chicken salad and pimiento cheese sandwiches prepared by the home ec department; doughnuts, marshmallows, potato chips, pickles and pepsicola. Many students returned to playing ball, while others explored and went down the nature trail. Around seven o'clock, the group prepared to leave after having an eventful and exciting trip.

Over 1,000 Join Concert Group

Over a thousand people have joined the Goldsboro Community Concert Association for next season.

The last minute rush of memberships brought total number for the 1948-49 series well over the 1000 mark. Last year's total membership was a few over 700.

The artist committee has met to select the artists to be presented this season. The increased amount of funds acquired has permitted a wider choice of artists to appear. Names and dates of the artists will be announced as soon as contracts have been made.
