

Movies Shown For Students

Recently, G. H. S. students began giving movies in the auditorium at activity periods and at first and second lunch periods.

Pictures for the 1949 "Gohisca" were taken December 29.

The Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen were taken on the same day.

Those whose pictures were not taken then were taken during the week of Dec. 6-11.

The senior girls were draped, while the other girls wore skirts and sweaters with pearls.

or." Davis Byrd, also a student at the University, has accepted the role of the prophet Isaiah. Davis' last appearance with the local players was with the New York Festival play, "First Lady." The First and Second Soldiers will be played by Karl Albert, who is making his first appearance before the footlight and Mike Pate, who was first seen last spring in the Goldmasquers and Junior Class' production of "Brief Candle."

The role of Steven will give Bill Dameron his first chance to play before the local people. He was heard earlier in the fall in the Radio Workshops' production of "America Has a Heart." Bryan Sutton who was first seen in "Brief Candle" and has been featured in a number of radio shows plays the role of the Chief Priest. The Three Kings will be played by Ray Bryan, Bill Elliott who was last seen in "First Lady," and Pete Jones who is a new comer in the department. Jerry Sandford will play Herod for his second time during his high school career. He was last seen in the production of "Life With Father," and will soon be heard in the Goldmasquers' Radiowork Anni-

French Club Names Members

Twenty Juniors and four Seniors were received into the Le Circle Francais, the G. H. S. French Club, at a recent meeting. They were: Juniors: Peggy Ann Britt, Asnton Griffin, Owen Ginn, Eddie Mitchell, Hugh Shine, Pat Taylor Sara Dewey Hunt, Geraldine Pate, Peggy Pittman, Elma Worrell, Walter Culbreth, W. D. Gurley, Pete Kannon, Barbara Aanderson, Betty Barbee, Janet Cook, Ruth Daughtry, Ruth Forehand, Elizabeth Smith, and Adeline Vann.

Seniors: Victor Herring, Mannie Bernstein, Anne Lee, and Dorothy Crawford.

Each new member was called to the desk to sign his name on the register and was given a lighted candle. The oath was then given by LaNelle Edwards, President. Coca-colas and cookies were then served to climax the meeting.

The requirements for entering the Club are to have a "1" for the quarter and to have an "S" on conduct.

versary Shows: "One More Free Man," "The Light House Keeper," and "The Ugliest Man in the World."

After being absent from the stage for three years, Ava Crumpler Jackson will return to play Herod's strangled wife Marianne. Ava was last seen in one of the outstanding productions of the past five years, "Men Folk," and she will long be remembered for her portrayal of Emma in "The Lady Who Came to Stay." The Shepherds will be played by Max Epstein who has already added two stage productions and two radio shows to his credit since September, Bobby Darden who is stepping into the same part his brother Charlie played last year, and Ashton Griffin who has appeared in such shows as "Tell Tale Heart," "Nothing But the Truth," and "Bethlehem Road." Betty Denmark is the only person playing the same role she did last year. Betty will play Gabriel. Soon she will be heard in the Workshops' production of "One More Free Man." Lucille Williams will make her first appearance in the role of Rachel and will be supported by Florence Bowden, who will play Anna. The

Joy Notes

- Thanks to:
1. The devotional committee for bringing Mrs. Ester Dyre here to speak and play for us.
 2. The majorettes for the time and work they have spent helping to improve our band.
 3. Our basketball team for the enthusiasm which they showed at our opening game.
 4. Miss Rena Lowery and her fourth period classes for typing for the "Hi News."
 5. The city of Goldsboro and the Goldmasquers for their forthcoming production of the "The Shepherds' Song."

Idle Shepherd, who is the narrator of the new edition of "The Shepherd's Song," will be played by Darion Ward, who last year played the part of Joseph.

The neighbors and travelers to Bethlehem will be played by a number of new people who will be seen in later Goldmasquers' productions.

The group is headed by Alvin Joyner and K. D. Pyatt, Jimmy Longest and Victor Herring. They will be supported by Anne Butler, Irwin Ennis, Janet Smith, Louise Lewis, Betty Jean Langston, Al Wallace, Margaret Bissett, David Johnson, Milrose Coward, Jim Alley, Dorothy Wall, Bobby Jean Thompson, Julia Manly and Joy Creech.

The Slave Barers are: Dillion Barfield, James Ham. Herman Vinson and Jimmy Howell.

Latin Club Has New Officials

Officers of the Latin Club of G. H. S. were elected recently.

They are president, Martha Kornegay; vice President, Bobby Noble; recording secretary, Pat Marshall; corresponding secretary, Jack Houser; and treasurer, Billy Gibson.

Membership in the Latin Club is not based on scholastic grades but any Latin student may join who has a sincere interest in the activities of the club.

Every student taking Latin 1 and 2 is now a member.

Students Write Foreign Students

Over two hundred letters have been written to be sent to the foreign schools. There were ninety-nine letters to boys and one hundred and eight letters to girls turned in.

The letters were written during English classes and were turned in to the S. A. without addresses. On the envelopes were written the sex and age of the person the letter was to go to. Also there was written the age and special interest of the sender.

A Foreign Schools committee was appointed. Billy Winslow was named chairman and Nancy Parker, Dawson Thompson, Ashton Griffin, and Kenneth Allen are on the committee.
