

Publication Staffs Plan Annual New York Trip

Plans are being made by the members of the Gohisca and the Hi News staff for attending the 27th annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association to be held at Columbia University, New York City, March 8, 9, and 10.

It now appears that thirty members of the two staffs will make the trip, although the exact number is not known.

Delegates from Goldsboro first attended the convention in the spring of 1949 when twelve members of the Hi News staff made the trip led by the Hi News advisor, Eugene L. Roberts. Last year, twelve or fifteen from the combined staffs of the Gohisca and the Hi News accompanied by both Mr. and Mrs. Roberts.

On the first trip the group stopped at the Paris Hotel and last year at the Woodstock, just off Times Square. This year they will stop at a downtown hotel but reservations have not been made.

Heretofore the delegation has traveled by train, but this year they will likely use a special cher-tered bus as the fare would be cheaper for more than fifteen passengers.

At the convention students have opportunity to hear some of the outstanding journalists of the country as well as a chance to discuss school publication problems with students and advisors from all parts of the United States.

Meetings are held mornings and afternoons and evenings are left open for recreation and sightseeing.

The convention closes with a luncheon held in the grand ballrooms of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, possibly the most famous hotel in the United States.

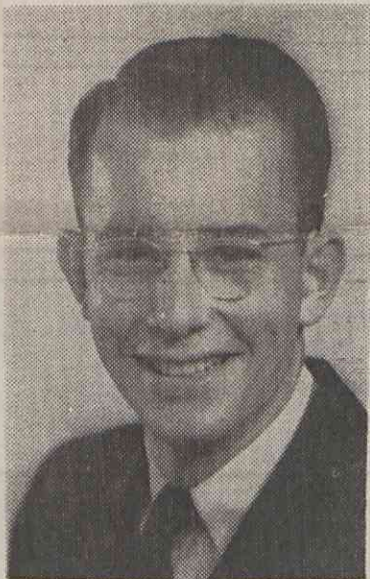

These trips have proved so enjoyable and educational that some of the students have made more than one trip.

Plans call for leaving Goldsboro on Tuesday afternoon and arriving in New York early Wednesday morning. The group will leave New York on Saturday night therefore arriving in Goldsboro early Sunday morning on March 11.

Tribute Is Paid Arthur Strider In Assembly Here

Tribute was paid Arthur Strider, G.H.S. student who passed away Christmas Eve after a brief illness, in a Memorial Service held January 5, in the Goldsboro High School auditorium.

The service included the invocation given by Mr. Eugene Roberts, two songs, "Nearer My God To Thee", and "Rock of Ages", by seven boys, and talks made by Sara Casey and Jimmy Frazier concerning Arthur's past and the part he played in our school. The service ended with the Lord's Prayer.

From South Carolina

Arthur moved to Goldsboro during his junior year, from Spartanburg, South Carolina. He was a complete stranger here; however his cheery smile and friendly "Hello" soon won him many friends. Most of his spare time was taken up by his job at his brother's jewelry store. His accomplishments at the school included only a home-room presidency, but he did much to create a better atmosphere throughout the halls and classrooms.

It is true that Arthur Strider has left us—but only in body, for he still and always will remain in our heart.

"He was a form of lift and light That, seen, became a part of sight

And rose, where'er turned mine eye,

The morning-star of memory!"

—Childe Harold's Pilgrimage.

First Social Set For February 10

The social committee has announced that the first S.A. Social will be held February 10.

Steve Dail, chairman of the committee, reports that the type of social it will be has not been decided upon.

Gym Completion Set For Spring

If work on the new GHS gym is not again interrupted by a shortage of materials, it is expected to be completed by April or May, according to the contractors.

The biggest problem now is to obtain a large amount of yellow bricks with which the interior of the gym is to be finished.

The gym has been progressing well in the last few months, so after the lobby is extended up and the roof brought over to meet it, most of the work will be done on the outside.

A concrete floor covered with wood, offices over the lobby, and dressing rooms under the bleachers are just a few of the modern features of the new gym.

Next basketball season will be around sooner than it seems and students hope by then the games will be enjoyed in the comfort of the new gym. There will be plenty of space for everyone and a scoreboard and clock appropriated by the class of '50.

Students X-Rayed At Health Offices

Wayne County Health Department again made the tuberculosis X-rays for the students of G.H.S. The X-raying was held at the health center on January 16, 17, and 23.

Freshmen received their X-rays first and the other classes followed respectively.

This was a part of the Wayne county health program as were the typhoid shots given the students the preceding week.

X-rays were charged for at the cost of one dollar per student.

Juniors-Seniors See Horror Films

The junior and senior boys of the student association were shown two reels of captured German film revealing the horrible Nazi atrocities of World War II on Tuesday, January 16, in the school auditorium.

Although it was made clear that the students were at liberty not to view the films if they did not wish to, all stayed to see and enjoy the sordid but informative document.

New Minister Speaks Here

The Reverend Gilmer H. Cross, new pastor of the First Baptist Church, spoke on the S.A. devotional held Friday, January 12.

Mr. Cross, who came to Goldsboro the first of the year, is from Oak Hill, West Virginia, and originally from Lexington, N. C.

He has a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, who is 13, and is enrolled in the William Street School.

Student Teachers From Carolina Do Practice Here

Three student teachers from the University of North Carolina have come to Goldsboro High School to do three months of practice work.

They are Mr. Dick Stamey, Mr. Noah Wilson, Jr., and Miss Ruth Saunders.

Two Are In Science

Mr. Stamey's home is Canton. He teaches physics and general science under Coach Anthony Blysak. He was in the NROTC at Carolina and when he completes his practice work he will enter the Navy.

Mr. Wilson comes from Wilson Mills. He is majoring in chemistry and biology and conducts classes under Miss Geraldine Jones and Coach Norris Jeffrey.

Miss Saunders is from Lumberton. She is majoring in social studies and plans to teach United States history.

When their practicing is finished, Mr. Wilson and Miss Saunders will return for graduation in June, while Mr. Stamey will go into the Navy.

March Of Dimes Drive Ends With A Square Dance

The "March of Dimes" campaign in G.H.S. was climaxed Friday night when a girls' basketball team played the women of the faculty of the several Goldsboro schools.

The game was followed by a square dance, called by Mr. Dick Stamey, a student teacher. The proceeds go to the "March of Dimes".

Plans for the polio drive which started Monday, January 15, and will last through Friday of this week were discussed at a meeting of the Community Service committee on January 11. A second meeting was held on the fifteenth to complete the plans.

A movie was shown that day during activity period to impress upon the students the need for money. Mr. Frank Greathouse, chairman for the polio campaign in Wayne County, spoke, urging the students to realize the needs of the chapter and support it in every way possible.

During lunch periods and after school students have learned various steps of the square dance. An exhibition assembly was given last Wednesday to show those who had not learned how the square dance was actually done.

The Community Service committee, with Irving Ennis as chairman, has been in charge of the polio drive and the promoting of it in school.

Annual Career Day Set For February

Career Day, which has been scheduled for February 21, is an annual project of the S.A. to offer students a better opportunity in selecting their life's work.

Several colleges have accepted invitations to send representatives to the occasion and others which as of now haven't answered, are expected to have attendants.

There is to be a general assembly in the auditorium at 9:00 and two classes with speakers from various colleges and vocations, before lunch. After lunch there will be a talent show and two more classes.

Honor Value System Goes Into Effect In G.H.S. With Spring Term

The Honor Value System is now in effect at G.H.S.

This movement, which is new in Goldsboro High, was voted on last June by the four classes in high school and the eighth graders of William Street.

Originally this plan was to go in effect last September but due to delay in getting the handbook from the printers, the only source of this material, it has just become effective.

The Constitution provides that four teachers elected by the Student Council and four students elected by the faculty will compose a council that will supervise this honor value system.

The teachers elected by the council are: Charles Doak, Miss Emma Lou Garner, Chairman Mrs. Eliza Cox, and Clifton Britton.

Those students elected by the faculty are: Shirley Shrago, Bobby Watson, Veryl Trueblood, and Steve Dail.

Juniors Plan Stunt For NHS Program

The planning of a stunt for the National Honor Society's "Stunt Night" was the main purpose of the Junior class meeting, January 11.

A committee headed by Morris Gurley was appointed to decide upon the stunt to be given.

Peggy Hawkins was selected to head a committee to raise the money for financing the program.

The committees were appointed by the class council and approved by the class.

The possibilities of having a basketball tournament between the classes of G.H.S. were presented by Miss Janie Ipock. However, no action was taken.

FHA Rally Held At Grantham

Mrs. Fred Harrell, Goldsboro, was guest speaker at Grantham Wednesday night, January 10, at the F.H.A. third county rally.

She gave a talk on family life influencing community life.

The main event of the evening was the basketball game between the East and West chapters. Joyce Jones, Ruby Handley, and Hilda Westbrook participated from Goldsboro.

The winning team was the East, which put Goldsboro on the winning side.

Members also sang songs for entertainment and later refreshments were served.

Sophomore Class Talks Stunt Night In Regular Meet

Stunt night was the main topic taken up by the Sophomore Class at their meeting last Thursday.

Miss Janie Ipock spoke to the group and explained that the proceeds would be used by the N.H.S. to give a $100 scholarship to one of the graduating seniors. A prize of $20 will be given to the winning class. Miss Ipock stressed the point of class spirit and everybody taking part.

A committee was made up of volunteers to work on stunt night. The sophomore class will give a stunt which is a secret and sing a song.

The chairmen for the committees for the year were appointed: music, Nancetta Hudson; duties to provide special music when needed; social, Martha Ellis; reception, Bobby Blackman and Ruth Shyver; entertainment, Kitty Brown and Janet Stanton; decoration, Ann Barfield, Tommy Johnson, and Joyce Stevenson; refreshments, Mary Lassiter and Betty Dunn; invitations, Harriett Walton.

Fifty dollars was appropriated for annual pictures. Bert Howell, president, and Steve Gooding, treasurer, were not present at the meeting. Janet Stanton, vice president, took charge of the meeting. There was a treasurer's report.

Band Participates In Lions Parade

The Goldsboro High School Band participated in the mid-winter Lions parade for this district, Tuesday, January 16.

Before the parade began, the G.H.S. band entertained the other participants in the parade with their music. They played Piano Roll Blues and several marches.

At 2:30 the band left the warehouse which was used for lining up the parade.

Their feature selections were "Saint Louis Blues" and "Black Jack".

Peggy Roberts, a freshman of G.H.S., was Sweetheart of the Pikeville Lions Club and rode on a float sponsored by Pikeville, Fremont and Kenly clubs.

The parade included around 16 blocks and lasted about one hour. There were five other bands and a number of floats also participating in the parade.
