Junior Class Takes Honors Student Night

The Junior Class walked away with top honors at the annual Stunt Night Saturday, receiving 75 of the possible 100 points.

Jesse Mitchell, a senior, and Peggy Nethercutt, a sophomore, were crowned Queen and King in the coronation, characterized by Irish music and songs.

Stunt Night was sponsored by the National Honor Society and the money raised will go for the scholarship awarded at graduation to the most deserving person in the society planning to attend college.

Juniors Add Points

The Junior Class won 25 points and the front seats, which was their privilege for selling the most tickets, and 10 points for singing their class and original song the best. The remaining 40 points was awarded for having the best stunt which was in the form of a minstrel. Bob Martin acted as interlocutor with Charles Norwood and David John Smith as end men. The rest of the class was in the chorus and sang several minstrel songs. Six of the girls did the "Charleston."

The Senior Class portrayed what life would be like in G.H.S. in 2000 A.D. The females being the stronger sex wore shorts and football shoulder pads. The boys wore long colored underwear. Their lessons were shoveled to them and the traditional tapping was carried out.

The Sophomore Class took the crowd back to the old Vaudeville days. They showed what goes on during the act out front and then the difficulties behind the scene.

Freshman Stunt

The Freshman Class had the theme "A Man Ain't Got A Chance." It showed the life of a little boy from infancy to manhood, each scene showing the woman having the "upper hand."

The runners-up in the Queen and King contest were Donnie Cobb, Virginia Guthrey, Jimmy Frazier, Nan Barnes, Karl Kassel, Emily Warrick, Bud Ellis, and Barbara Burton. The Irish theme was used, with Billy Crawford singing "My Wild Irish Rose".

Planning to follow up last year's smash hit, "H.M.S. Pinafore", with another Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera, the Goldmasquers will present the world famous musical classic, "The Mikado", March 10 and 12 under the direction of Mr. Andrew Griffith, whose proven gift for handling melodious works was so evident in last season's "H. M. S. Pinafore".

"The Mikado" is perhaps the most widely produced and appreciated of all Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas. It has long been one of the most effective bits of the theatre and ever since its first production has been many a singer's stepping stone to fame. "The Mikado" has been filmed in Technicolor in England, is constantly being presented by small operatic groups on the Great White Way and very, very few reported drama groups across the nation have not produced it at one time or another.

Setting Is Japan

The colorful, tuneful production is set in Japan and concerns the amusing affairs of the Japanese people in their more fortunate days.

The central role is that of Ko-oK, which is being played by Louis Hallow. Many of today's most famous entertainers have taken on the disguise of the diverting Ko-Ko at one time or another and one of Ko-Ko's most famous portrayals is none other than the screen actor Alan Ladd.

Many In Cast

Others in the main cast include the News Argus' Lincoln Kan as Poo-Bah, and George Johnson as Pish-Tush. Frank Kannan is to be seen as Nanki-Poo. Jerry Cuneo is to appear as Yum-Yum. Clara Kannan will be seen as Pitti Sing and Nellie Farfour is portraying the role of Katashaw. Audrey Garriss will complete the cast as Peep-Bo.

The large, featured chorus will include Paul Glisson, Ronald Percise, Jimmy Potter, Edward Broughton, Alan Huey, George Williams, Lora Wiggins, Donna Cogdell, Barbara Blackman, Susan McLamb, Grace Alexander, Nancy Combs, Peggy Hill, Bonnie Lou Jones, Ruth Sullivan, Margaret Long, Betsy Magill, Ellen McLawhorn, Joyce Cooper, Christine Horton, Annie Ray Keel, Susan Campbell, Rheta Bess Wood, Francis Nassif, Bobby Frederick, Terry McGregor, Craven Malpass, George Savage, Noah Wilson, Ira Montague, and Billy Gibson.

The accompanist for the production is Kitty Brown and the Student Directors are Mary Ann Greene and Nancetta Hudson.

Latin Club Plans School Directory

The G.H.S. Latin Club voted to have a student directory at their meeting of March 1.

The directory will contain the name, address, a phone number of all the students in school. They will be sold in order that the Latin Club may have money to sponsor its projects.

After the business session, Matilda Parker, vice president, presented a play entitled "You Are Tied to Latin".

Senior Invitations Are Being Ordered

The main purpose of the Senior Class meeting on March 1 was to discuss the ordering of their calling cards and graduation invitations. Orders are now being taken through homerooms.

The other part of the meeting consisted of electing a girl to represent Goldsboro High School in the Azalea festival at Wilmington on March 30 and 31. Nan Barnes, Arden Newbould, Mary Lou Raper and Margie Rose were elected to run in the finals.
