

ICT Job Program Offers Occupational Advantages

Industrial Cooperative Training, an on-the-job training program, is an opportunity for high school juniors and seniors to work in occupational areas of their choice.

The training program provides occupational experiences for future employees to learn skills and knowledge concerning the career they plan to work in later.

A qualified coordinator works with the learning student and employer, trying to help the student relate his classroom information to his on-the-job training.

The ICT program offers many advantages to the students, employers, community, and schools. For the student, it helps to bridge the gap between school and future jobs, and also instills in them the values of work and the productiveness in our economy. For the employers and community, ICT offers an excellent chance for them to help develop the occupations of future employees and citizens.

Rotary Couple Is Chosen For The Month Of March

March will certainly be a month to remember for two truly fine students who attend RMSH. The two are Sharon Henderson and Barry Thorpe, the March Rotary Couple.

Sharon Henderson This month's Rotary girl is involved Sharon Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henderson of 832 Burton Street.

Sharon is chairman of the Student Store Committee and a member of the President's Cabinet. She is also a member of the Service Club, the Sub-Deb Club, and the Teen-age Republican Club.

Although she says that all schools have their faults, Sharon likes RMSH. She thinks that most of the teachers take an interest in their students and have a sincere desire to teach them what they need to know. Her favorite subject is English.

Sharon loves to do most anything in her spare time. Mostly, however, she babysits and does church activities.

She wants to attend Meredith College in Raleigh after graduation from RMSH. Sharon is not sure what she will be taking, but she does want to take some phase of psychology and/or social work. After she graduates from college, Sharon would like to put her study into practice by finding an exacting job working with children.

Sharon says she likes just about any kind of food, but fried chicken and spaghetti are her favorites. She says she couldn't possibly have a favorite song, as she likes so many.

Sharon stated that she was genuinely surprised and very proud when she found she had won the honor.

Barry Thorpe This month's Rotary boy is Barry Thorpe, who is the son of Mrs. Lillian Thorpe of 323 Rocky Street.

Barry plans to attend a technical school in Washington, D. C., where he plans to major in computer programming, but is not sure what he wants to do after graduation from college.

Barry is an SRA Representative and is a member of the DE Club, and so he doesn't have too much time for his past-times, which are bowling and playing basketball.

Barry likes RMSH, but suggests there are a few areas in which improvements could be made. He thinks his teachers are "just fine".

His favorite color is green and his favorite food is Spanish rice.

When asked his reaction to winning the honor, he said, "I was shocked!"
