

Students Discuss Colleges Melinda Penny, Marsha Thompson and Cathy Thorne look over a pamphlet from Appalachian State University.

College Night a Success Tuesday, November 22 was College Night. Representatives from fifty-eight universities, colleges, technical and military institutions were on hand to answer questions from students and parents. Photo by Jerry Joyner

Mrs. Jacqueline Heston's history students produced a replica of a Medieval newspaper.

Class Prints Replica Of Medieval Paper

Mrs. Jackie Heston's fourth period 10th grade World Cultures class is producing a replica of a newspaper on the Medieval Times. Mrs. Heston, the instructor and advisor, states, "I want to show my class how to construct and produce a newspaper."

The entire class is working together to make a three page newspaper that contains main news, features and editorials. "Medieval Home Making," "The Crown of Charlemagne," and "The Pope Crowns Charlemagne" are some of the stories which will be presented on the first page.

Phil Davis commented, "I enjoy working on the paper and when the time comes to join The Gryphon staff, I will."

Reta Powell adds, "It's more than I'd expected. I like what I've done. I too would like to be a member of The Gryphon."

Mrs. Heston states, "I hope the paper will be a success."

College Aid Defined

The Guidance Department conducted a Financial Aid Workshop for parents and students November 15. Approximately 50 parents and students attended the workshop, which was held in the library.

Mr. Bill Hutchisson and Mrs. Edythe Tweedy used a visual presentation from the College Scholarship Service (CSS) of the College Board. Mrs. Tweedy added that this presentation provided parents and students with "practical and reliable information about post secondary education costs and financial aid."

The counselors also stressed the three main kinds of information needed to estimate college costs:

—The total expenses of attending each institution under consideration;

—The sources of aid available and how decisions are made about awarding it;

—And how to apply for special sources of aid.

—The College Board Publication Meeting College Cost provided work space for participants in the workshop. Using this, they could estimate expenses and determine eligibility for financial aid.

The Guidance Department has also extended an invitation to parents who did not attend the workshop to make an appointment with one of the counselors if assistance is needed.

MEBANE
Shoe Company
Downtown

John A. Dinan
Personal And Business Insurance

Chartered 1787
Louisburg College
The place to Live, Laugh, and Learn.
CHECK US OUT!
We are friendly, coed, two-year Liberal Arts and Career-oriented college, historically wise, warm, and chock-full of youthful goals for high school grads.
Write or Call the
DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS
Louisburg, N. C. 27549 (919-496-2521)

LEVI'S

Unwashed DENIM
AND Regular $11.50
CORDUROY'S

Man's Harbour LTD.
Englewood Square
Rocky Mount, N. C. 27801
Phone - 443-6210