It seems a sadder time than we expected. The world outside is cold. We know not what to expect from its bleak, bare atmosphere.

But we must never forget that tomorrow we will all enter into a renewal of life in a glad, bright, glorious new spring time, - freshmen in life's school, - as green and fresh again as we put forth our new shoots as ever we seemed in Albemarle High School. And so we go forth robed in the snowy emblem of our purification, no longer green, nor red, nor even blue, but as students leaving the school of books to become students in the school of life.

And in the words of the immortal tentmaker, Omar Khayyam, we hope to "Make the most of what we yet may spend,

Before we, too, into the dust descend."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior class of 1934 being of sane mind (or so we flatter ourselves) do hereby make this our last will and testament of our worldly and otherwise possessions and departing leave behind us the following estate accumulated during our years in Albemarle High School:

To the wise and patient faculty we leave the entire student body of next year for them to treat as they will - with or without mercy - for it makes no difference to us now. We also leave our very best wishes for increases in their salaries. If this fails there is a book in the library "How to Live on Less."

To the Senior teachers we bequeath our appreciation of their help and patience to us during our Senior year. To Miss Merritt we leave all our chewing gum, used or otherwise. To Miss Hipp we leave all our old Literary Digest Reports and the hope that she'll have a more historical minded class next year.

To the incoming Seniors we bequeath our chapel seats and the
