

Home Ec Classes Entertain At Tea

The Home Economics department entertained the faculty of Albemarle high school after school Tuesday at a tea in the home economics laboratory, to show off the new improvements of the department.

New curtains have been made by the girls in the freshmen classes for the sewing and cooking labs. New covers have been made for the couches and cushions, and the furniture has been repainted.

School Board Honored

The school board, Mr. Grigg and principals of the city schools were entertained Thursday night at a dinner given by the Home Economics department.

The tenth grade class prepared the dinner, using a St. Patrick's Day motif.

Three Boys Awarded Trips to Charlotte

Three Albemarle high students, Hubert Hatley, Glenn Almond and Elvin Eudy, spent Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week in Charlotte, as the guests of the Charlotte News, who sponsored a subscription contest won by the boys.

The boys, who obtained as many as fifteen new subscribers for the Charlotte News, were given this 3-day trip with all expenses paid. While there, they were taken through the News plant and shown all phases of printing a paper, and they were entertained at a special banquet.

WHO'S WHO

ILA LEE KNOTTS

Did someone say "Jitterbug"? Get Knotts! We've got to have Knotts!

Since she is one of the best dancers in school, Knotts is always in demand.

A hearty booster in every sport, Ila Lee Knotts was a member of the Boosters' club for five years and is now a cheer-leader. She is also in the Special Talents club.

Knotts is a member of the National Honor society and Black Masque Honor society, two more honors that prove she is an outstanding senior.

Her favorite attire is a shirt and skirt, and her favorite expression is "Shut up, Wade!" While she is fussing at Wade, she is thinking about Lennor Rhyme (her preference in colleges).

When asked what she would do with a million dollars, Knotts said, "I would live easy. The money would also help me to fulfill my ambition, which is to become an interior decorator and to get married."

Knotts likes to drive, dance, read (especially biographies), flirt, and just any kind of sport. But she hates being teased, not having her own way, and "two-timers."

After graduation from the twelfth grade, Knotts is undecided what she will do, but she hopes to go to college.

KEITH ALMOND

If you see a boy driving an old A model Ford and nonchalantly eating a turnip, you will know at once that it is Keith Almond.

Keith is a transfer from Endy and one of the friendliest and most popular boys in school. There is really nothing he can't do. He is president of the newly-organized Country club and a member of the Dramatic club.

The yell, "Ring 'em again, ring 'em again, faster, faster," is well fitted to Keith. He was on the Endy basketball team for three years and was one of the stars on the A. H. S. team this year. He plays tennis and baseball, too, and he says he will compete with anyone in a real barn dance.

Keith likes to eat anything (especially soup). He also likes chickens—and everything else that goes with a farm. His chief dislike is to read anything except the sports page.

Keith really has some ardent admirers in the lower classes, but we think he likes a certain twelfth grader (and sometimes Pfeiffer—who doesn't!).

His favorite attire is a pair of overalls or a basketball suit, and his ambition is to teach physical education.

Keith plans to enter State College after graduation from the twelfth grade and take a course in agriculture.

"Ah, Spring—" The Poet's Season Brings Out Love, Tops, and Skirt

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love"—and though it may be turning these a bit, thoughts are rushing, fashions are changing, and "spring fever" has gotten a good start with almost three-fourths of the student body.

These old favorites, playing marbles and spinning tops, are more popular than ever, and you may catch a sidewalk but not draw off with a hop-scotch. Jumping ropes, too, are in great demand.

The first warm days brought a change from wool skirts and sweaters in light spring dresses. Coryn was certainly surprised when she breezed out one morning dressed for a nice spring day only to find that Old Man Winter was still with us.

That old fad "shirt tails out" has been renewed by Judy, Ninky, Skimp, Coral and almost every boy in school. John Kennedy really shines in that aqua jacket.

Moccasins and saddle oxfords still are the most popular footwear, although the girls have sorta gone for those Mexican sandals, Hurmuchs.

The most popular outfit for school wear this spring will undoubtedly be cotton skirts and thin white blouses. Speaking of blouses, Joe Beaver's is about the prettiest this spring.

Latest reports are that the Home Ec classes are to start sewing again soon, to look for the latest thing in spring clothes from them.

To the other one-fourth of you who haven't caught "spring fever" yet, your time will come. You can't miss it because it's very contagious. Don't worry, though; the best cure seems to be—just let nature take its course. Hope you live through it.

Fifteen Typists All Compete In Contest

Fifteen commercial typists plan to enter the national contest to be held April 15-18. The students, three seniors, two sophomores, and two freshmen.

Sam Andrew, a junior, who has the school record of 27 minutes, should have a chance to win one of the top prizes for winning speed but his words per minute.
