Band Uniforms and French Horns

Why shouldn't A. H. S. have band uniforms and French horns, such as are required to make our high school band look and sound the best?

A H. S. gives its students every modern convenience possible. We have many advantages that other high schools even larger than ours do not have. Our ath letes are given the finest protection and the most desirable places to play possible. Our scholastic average is tops and stu-dents are offered full time courses in typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, industrial arts and other subjects not generally offered. In these courses, all necessary equipment is supplied.

Yet our high school band was penalized this year at Salisbury because of their lack of uniforms and proper band instru-ments. The band made a rating of one on their music making ability, which is excellent, but their grade was dropped to a two because they did not have uniforms and French horns.

There are two ways in which m can be raised to purchase the uniforms and band instruments. One is by the school or through school activities for which charges are made.

The other is by talking up the situa-tion to the people of the town who would more than likely be happy to help with the purchasing of this equipment if they understood the need

We believe if the students will get back of this and push it a little, it w take long to get this improvement for our band and school. There is no reason at all why we shouldn't have uniforms and sary instruments to make A. H. S.'s band one of the best

• Ready? Serve!

According to the number of sports lovers who are attending the city-wide tennis tournament, now being held among the four elementary schools of Albemarle, one can get no greater thrill than in see ing a player bring down his racquet, sending the little white sphere flying over the net with the speed of the wind.

Since its introduction in America in 1875, tennis has proved more popular each year.

Tennis has the advantage over other sports in that after one finishes school. sports in that after one minsnes school, he can not always get up twenty-two peo-ple to play a game of football or eighteen people to play baseball or twelve people to play basketball, but there will always be one other person ready to grab a racquet and battle it out over the net

So bring out your racquet and "at the end of the game, we shall see who gains."

THE FULL MOON

Published monthly by the Journalism class of Albemarle High School, Albe marle, North Carolina.

	Assistant Editor	EUNICE SMITH
	Feature Editor	RAMELLE MORRIS
	Asst. Feature Editors RAY LEFLER, MAR EILEEN DRYE.	PATTY CROWELL GUERITE WALKER

Sports Editor Asst. Sports Editors LLOYD SKIDMORE. TED WALLACE BOB MORROW

LLOYD SKIDMORE. Reporters. DOROTHY PARKER, MARCARET DEESE, LENA CHANDLER, POCAHONTAS MEIGS. Artist. Typists...M. A. SKIDMORE, DORIS FRANKS

BUSINESS STAFF

BUISINESS STAFF Business Manager. LAURE PEANCES Prock Asst. Business Managers. Stary QUINN, CERG FURE, LAFAYETE BLACKWELL, FRED ALBRICHT, COLLOG MORTON, HUBERT STREWALT. Advertising Managers. CAROLYN STORE. CAROLYN STORE. MES. PAUL B. FRY

Albemarle, N. C., April 28, 1941

You Couldn't Go Wrong

, do you have a student in mind whom you could recom-mend to whom I might offer a job as office assistant? I would like to have a high school student who is interested in my type of work in order that I might train him as an apprentice. My main requirement is that he must be able to type accurately, and fairly rapidly."

This conversation, taking place between a high school teacher and a local busi ness man, is typical of many similar con versations which take place during the versations which take place during the year. Faculty members are often asked to recommend students for jobs, which when taken will probably lead to bigger and better opportunities for the student And these men practically always de-and one accomplishment-that the student be able to type.

If you have one, two, or three years left in high school, why not avail yourself of an opportunity like this by taking the excellent commercial course offered

Perhaps you are thinking that it will he a waste of time if you are prepa for college instead of a job. Don't think it a minute longer! You can't go wrong by taking typing, because you will find no greater aid to studying than being able to type assignments and personal research

Either way you look at it, it's a prac tical and worth while idea, so why not think it over and give yourself new abances

Courses For Next Year

It's time to sign up for courses for next year. What to take is the question that every student is asking.

Before answering this question every student should know whether he is going to college or not, or if he wants com-mercial subjects.

College entrance requirements differ slightly in some colleges, but in general they are four years of English, two years of foreign language, two years of science, and one year of United States History. It would make it much easier if the student knew the subject he is going to major in in college. Then he should take, hile in high school, any subjects connect ed with this. A person shouldn't try to cramp all these requirements into one ear, but spread them over the four or five years he comes to school.

For those of us who can't go to college or who are interested in commercial work, our school offers courses in typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping.

Those that go to college will find typi very helpful and should one year take it as one of their "must" subjects.

Don't let students that have taken the Don't let students that have taken the subject before influence you too much, because different people have different tastes. What he may like, you may not.

Armed with a pair of sun glasses and numerous pencils and pens, I was in the act of descending the stairs when whom should I bump into (I mean that literally, moving my glasses and placing them in my back pocket, I proceeded to ask him

what he planned to do during his vacation. "Vacation!" he shouted, "What vacation? The day school is out I'm leaving for Carolina to go to summer school!" He went off mumbling something about

After one set-back I decided to change

Carefully re

too) but Mr. De Lotto,

"crazy people."

months

BOOK REVIEW

WANTED TO BE AN ACTRESS" By KATHERINE CORNELL

Acting is in her blood; she was born with the feeling for it, and she has veloped her ability to the extent of becoming one of our country's leading ac-tresses. From acting in kindergarten and anateur theatricals, she rose to and amateur theatricals, she rose to Broadway fame and later toured Europe, America, and, like other actresses, took her place in motion pictures.

This dynamic actress has been in almost every field of drama. She has produced her own plays, taking the leading role in her production, The Barrets of Wimpole She had her try in Shakespearean drama as Juliet in Romeo and Juliet. During her caree rshe became acquaint with other members of the theater Her introduction to Greta Garbo was amusingly, embarrassing to both women Marlene Dietrich also presented herself under unfavorable circumstances when she committed herself to the position of cook in the actress's kitchen.

This book, I Wanted To Be An Ac This book, I Wanted To Be An Ac-tress, contains many amusing incidents which are exciting, interesting and in-formative, especially to those who have hopes of stage or movie career. book is an autobiography of Katherine Cornell, told in a characteristic manner, and it promises enjoyable reading for

"JERRY AT THE ACADEMY" By ELMER E. FERRIS

At last Jerry Foster, of Seven-Mile Creek, knew what he most wished to do after finishing district school-that wa to go to Wayland Academy. But every ne he thought about it, the matter of money popped up. It took money to go to Wayland, the same as any other act my, and the Foster family pocketbook didn't have enough for that.

Jerry might not have attempted it had it not been for Mr. Rand, the athletics teacher in the school at Seven-Mile Creek. But he wouldn't give up the idea r would he let Jerry give it up either "You can do it if you make up your mind to it," he said.

So finally the day came when he w to Wayland Academy. It was very ex-citing to meet the other boys and to take in all the school doings. part But wasn't easy to earn money as he went along, and when he lost his job because he raced the landlady's horse, everything looked dark. How could he possibly go on? One of his friends, a senior, promised to let Jerry stay with him, without charge, until he could earn the money to pay back the debt the following summer.

Many more school adventures lay in wait for him, as you will find out if you read this unusual school story about a boy you are certain to like

HERE and THE

March 28. A

THE ECONOMICS CLASS DE be quite entertaining sometime the students really dumb or are b making bright remarks? Here p of the incidents that occurred Hall's Economics class.

Miss Hall: "Does anyone know heterogeneous means?" La Verne R.: "I'll bite-

BRING GRAMMAR BOOKS' hi This is what most of the Engine ers are saying now.

Several of the students are him na time learning spelling and grache On Charlie Hester Smith's rei per Miss Watson found a my like this-"Appositive are usual es

Miss Hege told Joe Lowdern we sentence with demeanor. This Mo tence Joe gave: "Demeanor muss lower your grade are." M

THE SMILE ON MRS. FRIEND She is e has broadened.

What is it all about? She has two tiny geranium is the three years hard labor with for m

SEVERAL POETS have been ered by Miss Polston. This is a sample of the poer

Miss Polston walked to clas Said, "Student's, hold your bar to I'm going to make an assignment That will scare you most to deal the het will scare you most to deal the "On April first you must bring is

They said they couldn't do stip But this, the teacher stated-

With a compass and a min of And you can make a lover of BUT BOY! DID I FOOL

melle Morris, also contributed or poetry to prove that all poets "

To come to school without any po To sit and think and try to in he To sit and think and try to letter When all we want is to laugh at All we hear is "Contracts will be 8

One, Macbeth; one, the Renaiss be late. What were the results of this' -

a jam.

poleon or whether Mari

nette was a nobleman. Did Duncan write the "Social or did Voltaire murder

I'm in a daze again.

a certain blonde standing in the "My plan for the summer," "is to buy a pup tent on credi-it in the East Albemarle school wondered why.

I decided to try one more Whiteley would surely be doing "

"Me? I'm going to spend be working in one of the downer No vacation for me?"

Heck! Why doesn't school TP-

Oh! the sun glasses! Twenty minutes later, coming out of

by a geometry student, Eusla I.Mi

20 designs of geometric aligner el And let me remind you of this le And let me remind you are "Tis no April fool assignment" un

On designs to be created,

"Just sit in a corner va

B

One of the World History state

MY MASTERPIECE h

Of all the things to do each in certain date:

And what were the causes of in 1 Locate all the places on that is And outline the countries of Now I'm all mixed up and my = 1

I don't know whether Macbett b

Here I'm trying to get both com - the first aid room, I met Ted The interesting this summer.

Now that summer is almost here and my manner of approach. Risking my students are beginning to count the days head around the corner of the building, and hours until school goes out, your rov-ing reporter, who is suffering with an advanced case of spring fever, decided to start roving and interview a few stu-I saw James Senter. Tapping him lightly on the shoulder, I asked him what his "Well", he said, "I hope my girl moves to the beach so I can follow her there." dents as to their plans for the vacation

Maybe School Will Be Out Soon

And Then We Can Do All This

"But if she doesn't-"I'll get another girl." Wandering on down to the gym, I saw Dorothy Parker busily engaged in practicing tennis. Barely managing to miss one of her "fast" balls, I asked her what she was going to do this summer

"Just any beach," she answered.

"I'll drop you a card." Realizing that I was getting nowhere fast, I ambled over to a bench and sat

"I'm going to the beach." "Which beach?"