

Recent Programs Given By Chorus

Besides their school activities, the mixed chorus, under the direction of Mr. Fry, has been of great service to the community by singing at various clubs and churches.

Because of their ability to sing, stage appearance, and co-operation the chorus receives not only invitations from Albemarle but also from out of town. Recently they have sung at the First Street Methodist church, First Baptist church, Rotary club, and Main Street Methodist church. The boys quartet, girls trio, and several solos are also included in the programs.

At the recent church appearances, the chorus sang "Lord, Thou Art Mighty," "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," and "For God So Loved the World."

The boys quartet sang "Beyond the Sunset" and "Sea Gypsy". The girls trio sang "When Love Is Kind". Marilyn Greene, David Morrow, J. C. Boone, and Arce Rose Rich were the soloists.

On last Thursday the quartet, trio, and soloists participated in a radio program.

Sally Beaver, the only junior tapped at W. C., has recently been elected editor of the "Carolinian", the college newspaper. She has been an honor student during her three years at W. C. Sally was chosen to attend the National Student association at Chapel Hill. While at A.H.S., she was editor of the "Full Moon", literary editor of "Crossroads", "Who's Who", and valedictorian.

Home Ec Girls To Attend Show

The second year classes of the home economics department will attend an antique show at the McSwain House of Antiques in Albemarle on April 15.

Mrs. Coble, home economics teacher, will accompany her two classes of second year students on an appreciation trip to the McSwain House of Antiques for the annual spring show. Mrs. McSwain will act as guide for the group and will point out things of interest. She will try to teach them how to identify antiques and tell them of the construction of hand made furniture.

Of special interest will be the phase of the talk which deals with the making of the original pressed glass.
