

A hot sunny day would soon pass
As Dot, Sut, Jack, and I sat on the grass.
Gobs of fish we did see
Jumping and splashing for glee
But we caught just a half-inch bass.

There's a girl in our class named
Jolee,
Who was in the midst of the
Ellerbe spree,
Even though we weren't right,
For we went through the light,
It cost us a whopping big fee.

The annual Albemarle High School Science Fair drew a large crowd of scientific minded Albemarle people to its shows on May 8 and 9.
Mr. R. C. Hatley, head of the chemistry and physics departments, Mrs. Saunders, head of the general science department, and Mrs. Lyke, head of the biology department, stated that approximately 17 hundred visitors, of whom a large part were adults, visited the fair during the two-day period. Eighth graders from the city schools and high school students from all over the county helped to make the fair a great success.
Over three hundred and thirty-four different projects, ranging from a photosynthesis display all the way down to a jet engine, were on display to astonish and entertain the public.
