

Jeff Underwood Is Installed As Student Council President

Journalism Class Produces Paper

Working busily to bring to the students of A.S.H.S. this year's editions of the Full Moon will be a staff composed of members of Mrs. Fry's fourth period Journalism class.

Acting as editor this year is Harriet Reeves and Edward Lowder is business manager.

Serving in the capacity of managing editor is Sherry Pegram. Working as assistant business manager is John Gore.

News editor is Nancy Russell, who will have on her staff of news writers Jackie Barbee, Marie Ruffat, Rowena Kluttz, Judy Almond, Mary Ellen Bowen, and Sandra Huneycutt.

Loretta Holt, as feature editor, will head the feature staff composed of Brenda Smith, Gay Snuggs, Sylvia Wall, Jane Crutchfield, Frances Sides, Vivian Smith, Becky Moss, and Brenda Morris.

Don Simpson heads the sports staff. Working as sports writers will be Eddie McLester, Lester Bivens, and Skippy Baldwin.

Circulation manager of the paper is Robert Throneburg.

Making sure that all articles are typed for the coming issues of the Full Moon will be Judy Almond, typing editor.

Mrs. Paul B. Fry is the faculty advisor.

Fry Is Appointed To Membership Of State Council

Mr. Paul B. Fry, a member of the ASHS faculty, has recently been appointed by the State Board of Education to membership on the State Advisory Council on Teacher Education and Professional Standards.

On the recommendation of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Charles F. Carroll, Mr. Fry will be among forty to fifty college and high school teachers on the Council. Since the majority of members are college teachers, it is especially an honor for Mr. Fry to be appointed.

Along with other responsibilities, the Council is asked to offer suggestions in two specific areas. One aspect of their work is to give advice for students seeking a teaching profession on which preparatory subjects they should take in college. The Council is also expected to make recommendations on individual and professional standards for teachers.

Mr. Fry is the second ASHS teacher to be so honored.

'Geniuses' Work On Annual

Who are those "geniuses" hard at work behind the candy-striped paper in the annual room? They are members of the annual staffs who have chosen a theme and are already busy on this year's edition of the Crossroads, which will come out sometime in the spring.

The 1961-1962 Crossroads staffs are as follows:

Editor, Barbara Doby; assistant editor, Margaret Allred; business manager, Mickey Mauldin, and assistant business manager, Johnny Garrison.

Working hard on the business staff are Brenda Morris, Janet Allred, James Caudle, Hinky Tucker, Bill Sweet, Jeff Underwood, Jane Morton, George Efrid, Lana Turner, Sandra Huneycutt, Tony Furr, Sue Byrd, Arthur Sells, Nancy Stoker, Charles Stockton, Skippy Baldwin, and Claudia Hall. As typing editor, Rebekah Swar-

SEMIFINALISTS IN NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION

Faculty Prepares For Re-Evaluation

In order to retain its membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, A. S. H. S. must be re-evaluated and meet certain requirements in every area. The A. S. H. S. Administration has requested a committee from the Southern Association to re-evaluate the school March 15.

To prepare for the committee's visit, certain members of the faculty are heading self-evaluation committees which will investigate the various departments in the school to see if they meet the requirements set forth in a prescribed manual. Serving on these committees will be other members of the faculty, parents of students, and students.

Seniors Choose Rowena Princess

Rowena Kluttz was elected by the Senior Class as Carrousel Princess for the coming year.

Other contestants competing for this honor were Patricia Vanhoy, Sylvia Wall, Cathy Freeman, and Judy Laton.

Besides riding in the various Christmas parades, Rowena will be engaged in other carrousel activities.

3 Boys Are Semifinalists In Merit Scholarship Exams

NOTICE

Take time to notice and read the editorial appearing on page two today.

It was submitted last spring by the members of Mrs. Game-well's tenth grade English class.

In the light of the present emphasis on "quality education" and in connection with the evaluation being done in ASHS this year, the editors thought this editorial particularly timely and are glad to feature it.

Three Teachers Enlarge Faculty

Three new faculty members, Mrs. Patricia Wiles, Mrs. Jewell Lee, and Mrs. Jacob Carter have been welcomed into ASHS this year.

Mrs. Patricia Wiles, a graduate of High Point College, formerly taught seventh grade at AJHS and will teach English here at this school. When interviewed, she stated, "English has always been a favorite subject of mine, and I have found that it is fun at ASHS teaching material I enjoy to pupils I like."

Certainly Mrs. Jewell Lee is no stranger to the faculty members or students of ASHS. Prior to her graduation from Pfeiffer College last year, Mrs. Lee was a practice teacher here. This year, she will be busy teaching typing and bookkeeping. In addition to this, she will be faculty advisor to the annual staff.

Mrs. Lee thinks "It is an honor to teach in a nice school such as this where everyone is willing to help."

Mrs. Carter, a former teacher of ASHS, stated: "I certainly missed working with students last year." This year Mrs. Carter is teaching Typing I, Short-hand, Office Practice, and Business Math. Besides all of this, in her homeroom two days a week she teaches personal typing.

Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Carter are serving as faculty co-sponsors of the FBLA.

Three boys from Albemarle Senior High, Edward Lowder, Eddie McLester, and Charles Stockton, have reached the semi-final standing in competition for National Merit Scholarships.

The semi-finalists were chosen from those who took the National Merit Qualifying Test given last spring to most of the Juniors at ASHS. Out of ten thousand participants in the country, those with the highest scores in the United States and territories were selected.

For these boys to become finalists, they must acquire a sufficient rating on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Board Entrance Examination, and be endorsed by the high school.

Last year there were no students from ASHS to reach the semi-final standing. However, two years ago, the school was well represented in the semi-finals by Mary Jo Winn, Johnny Shelton, Roger Laney, Neil Efrid, John Burchette, and Harry Whitely.

Movie Is Shown Students By DAR

Students at A. S. H. S. saw a movie entitled, "Operation Abolition" which was presented by the local chapter of the D. A. R. on September 15.

Mrs. Vance Ausband, regent of the local D. A. R. chapter, gave an introductory speech on the purpose of the movie. It was to show the students the way the Communists were using college students to destroy America's main principles.

"Operation Abolition" showed how the Communists feed propaganda into the minds of the young people of America. The movie took place in San Francisco in May, 1960, during the American Activities Committee meetings. Mob scenes and much violence were brought out in this movie.

After the movie, Mrs. Dera Parkinson presented A. S. H. S. with a picture of "The Signing of the Constitution". A key to explain the picture was also given to the student body.

Official Oath Then Given To Others Forming Council

New Student Council officers, representatives, and class officers were installed in an impressive ceremony September 26.

Jeff Underwood, Student Council president, opened the assembly by stating the purpose of the service. Gay Snuggs, Bible Club president, gave the devotional and prayer and led the student body in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. This was followed by the National Anthem sung by Frances Sides.

Mr. Webb issued the oath of office to the following Student Council officers: Jeff Underwood, president; Raymond Earnhardt, vice-president; Delores Morton, secretary; and Rowena Kluttz, treasurer.

Student Council representatives and class officers received their oath of office from Jeff Underwood. The representatives are as follows: Steve Smith, Jimmy Whitley, Neville Patterson, Lester Bivens, Sue Underwood, Al Calder, Tommy Smith, Gary Barrier, Jimmy Barrier, Jimmy Barbee, Jane Greer, Lana Turner, Barbara Furr, Tony Almond, Anita Taylor, Bobbie Atkins, and Marie Ruffat.

Special committee chairmen installed include Sylvia Wall, Johnny Furr, Judy Wilson, Mickey Mauldin, Skippy Baldwin, Tommy Lander, Terry Morgan, Rickey Furr, Kenneth York, and Sherry Pegram. Harriet Reeves and Barbara Doby, editors of the Full Moon and Crossroads, respectively, were also installed as honorary members.

Class officers being installed were as follows: Sophomore, Terry Morgan, president; Robert Scarboro, vice-president; Sue Underwood, secretary; and Barbara Furr, treasurer. Junior, Neville Patterson, president; Susan Kayler, vice-president; Rickie Furr, secretary; and Steve Smith, treasurer. Senior, Mickey Mauldin, president; James Caudle, vice-president; Margaret Allred, secretary; and Ellen Hatley, treasurer.

The president led the student body in a pledge of loyalty and then introduced the speaker.

Rev. N. C. Kirkland, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, gave a most interesting talk appropriate for the occasion.

By Their Words

"I've got Snow to keep me warm."—Rebekah Swaringen.

"I'm going to stay a bachelor all my life and raise all my kids to be bachelors."—Don Simpson.

"Theme song for the hurricane season: 'Don't Come Over to My House, Let My House Come Over to You'."—Bobby Richards.

"If I don't hurry, my party will start before I get there."—Jane Crutchfield.

"Love is something sent from heaven that worries the heck out of you."—Mr. Nye.

"The president of Senior Choir should be either a boy or a girl."—Mr. Fry.

"I guess you know that I've got history on the brain."—Mrs. Westerlund.

"I want to go to Duke's University."—Sheila Harris.

"My thinking gets ahead of my mouth."—Mr. Hatley.

"This lipstick makes me look like I was buried and dug up."—Jane Crutchfield.

"We have the only meatloaf in the world, that if you say, 'Whoa,' before you allow, it will stop."—Raymond Terry.

"I won't count the word right if I can't write your reading."—Mrs. Deese.