

MOONBEAMS

Science Courses Offered

Summer courses in Biology and Chemistry begin June 9 and will terminate July 20. July 4 will be observed as a holiday.

FBLA Gives Chains

The FBLA Gift-of-the-Month for April was a personalized key chain for each teacher.

The key chains were designed to highlight a teacher's field of work.

Club members working on these gifts were Donna Barrier, Paula Tucker, Kenny Tucker, and Lamar Burleson.

Hatley to Serve

Mr. R. C. Hatley, president of the Science Teachers Division of the South Piedmont District of the North Carolina Education Association, attended a planning meeting at UNC-G Wednesday, May 14.

Two Honored

Kenneth Kiser has been selected to serve as Student Lion for May. Mike Massey is serving as Student Rotarian.

Chorus Groups Bring Joy

Approximately 125 chorus students joined in presenting the Annual Spring Concert Friday night, May 16, in the Senior High auditorium.

This year's theme was "Happiness Is." The auditorium was decorated with Peanut's characters.

Karen Hall was in charge of the auditorium decorations; Judy Watts made all party arrangements. Ushers for the program were Karen Moose, Mary Kay Austin, Linda Carpenter, Doug Moose, Martha Hall, Sherry Howard, and Sheila Ritchie.

Knight Finishes Fifth

Wayne Knight finished in fifth place when Ernest Watson and he attended the District 3D Bricklaying Contest.

A performers' test and written test were added for the final score. Wayne compiled 921 points out of a possible 1100.

Union Pines High School was host to 25 contestants representing thirteen high schools of five counties.

Band Performs Episodes

The Concert Band helped to usher in the arrival of spring by presenting the Annual Spring Concert, Friday, May 2, in the high school auditorium.

Also entertaining were the Junior High Beginner, Eighth Grade, and Ninth Grade bands. Each of the four groups performed several numbers.

This year's concert was entitled "Four Episodes For Band."

Lettermen Fiddle

The Monogram Club sponsored the annual Fiddler's Convention, Saturday evening, April 26.

The Monogram Club sold hamburgers and drinks in the cafeteria. There was also a concession stand open for refreshments.

In addition, the club also contributed to backstage work, parking cars and other minor details.

For their efforts the Monogram Club made between five and six hundred dollars.

Susan Wolf and Jimmy Nance have been recognized for their contributions to the school by being named Faces in Focus for the month of May.

Susan is an outstanding honor student, ranking number one in the Senior Class. As a sophomore she acquired the biology award, and as a rising junior she attended Governor's School.

National Honor Society, Modern Music Masters, Boosters, and Monogram Club are some of her various activities. She has been a member of the tennis team for three years. Susan is on The Full Moon staff.

Jimmy also maintains a high academic record. He serves as vice-president of the National Honor Society. Work in the Science Club is one of his many interests.

This year, Jimmy served as assistant editor of the Crossroads and was selected as Student Lion for the month of November. He is a member of the Monogram Club and has competed on the tennis team for three years.

Goforth, Noah Forensic Firsts

Seven out of nine ASHS students won recognition in the Western North Carolina High School Activities Association Forensic Contest, hosted by the Watauga High School, in Boone, April 21.

Mary Ellen Goforth and Michael Noah captured first place in the dialogue category by performing a segment of the musical "Brigadoon." Neesie Huncy presented a rendition of "Frontier Mortician" to take second place in the humorous reading division.

Three students attained third place: Joyce Preslar giving the mono-drama "Happiness Is..." in the poetry and mono-drama section; Tom Adams in extemporaneous speaking, by presenting an original talk, "Good Government"; and Jill Anderson in prose reading for her presentation of a segment of To Kill a Mockingbird.

Ronny Garber memorized and recited F. D. Roosevelt's first inaugural address to take fourth place in the declaration division.

Ernie Whitley competed in the poetry section with his presentation of Edgar Allan Poe's "The Raven." Gail Fisher participated in the oratory section by giving an original talk "The Staff of Life: Music."

This is the first time ASHS has been represented in the competition.

3M Initiates Members

Twenty-five musicians performed in an assembly inducting them into the Modern Music Masters, fifth period, Wednesday, April 20.

Each inductee presented a musical selection, either alone or in a group, as part of the ceremony.

One group consisting of Steve Blalock, Reggie Hudson, David Mauney, Craig Pickler, Steve Sinclair, and Kenneth Tucker rendered their arrangement of "59th Street Bridge Song."

Sam Hopkins, Sonny Dick, Craig Taylor, and Glenn Rummage sang "Dear Heart."

A trio of girls, Rose Callaway, Connie Holt, and Susan Chandler, performed "Our Day Will Come."

A highlight of the show was Becky Jo Clark's rhythmic song routine in costume, "Singing in the Rain."

Piano performances included: Dixie Calder, with "Exodus"; Sonny Dick, with "The Sound of Music"; and Betsy Harrington, with "This Guy's in Love With You."

Susan Lowder and Andrea Lowder presented a piano duet, "Lara's Theme," from Dr. Zhivago. Jennie Clark and Kathleen Harbers played "Melody of Love."

Accompanied by Susan Squires on the guitar, Joyce Preslar sang "Their Hearts Were Full of Spring." Nancy Weydell performed "The Swan" on the flute. Marion Andrew, on the piano, accompanied Janet Garner, on the clarinet, in a duet, "Adagio from Concerts for Clarinet and Piano."

Band members, Marilyn Crisco, Gloria Surratt, Donna Lowder, and Ann Kilpatrick performed on clarinets "Only You and You Alone."

Cannon Grant Goes To Watson

Bill Watson has been awarded the Cannon Grant offered to students going into the field of business administration.

This is an academic scholarship, renewable each year. Bill will attend Pfeiffer College next fall.

Other seniors receiving scholarships are Teresa Wagoner, the Carrousel Scholarship; Mike Manning, the Angier B. Duke Scholarship; and Harriet Emmons, the Alcoa Scholarship.
