Vol. 35 — No. 2

Albemarle Senior High School

Oct. 10, 1969

FBLA, Library, VICA Clubs Act

FBLA is a three time winner in national Future Business Leaders of America competition.

At the National Leadership Conference in Dallas, Texas, June 14-18, the local FBLA club placed fifth in the most original project contest for their "Project of the Month"; received an achievement award for their theme, "Come to the Aid of Our ..."; and received a Gold Seal award.

The FBLA theme for 69-70, "To Live a Better Life", will be accomplished through Enjoying our leisure time; Enjoying a good job; Enjoying good health; Enjoying better communication; and Enjoying a happy marriage.

This year the club plans to sponsor a "Teacher of the Month" project, a Christmas tree in the cafeteria, a car in the homecoming parade, and a dance following exams.

Fourteen students will serve as library assistants this year. They are Virgil Currie, Delores Corne, Larry Mills, Peggy Morton, Debbie Lowder, Bruce Tyson, Lynn Swaringen.

Ken Wilson, Jennifer Morgan, Angela Little, Melanie Morris, Brenda Pemberton, Carolyn Sells, and Susan Blalock.

These and former assistants will make up this year's library club. They are members of the six county district library club, of which ASHS student Melanie Morris, is president. The members also belong to the state library organization.

As one of its main projects,

MOONBEAMS

Pictures Snapped

Students posed for individual

Pictures were snapped by order of homeroom classes by

Delmar Sales, Inc., from

Charlotte. Group snapshots of everyday activities were also taken by Jay Weemhoff and

Chivington, Lu Turbyfill, Shelia

Lambert, and Jane Frye assisted pictures, in contrast to last

The ASHS Marching Band

received invitations to perform at football games of the University of North Carolina at

Chapel Hill, and also at Clemson high schools from North and South Carolina will perform at booked to march in the Christmas parades of Salisbury,

Seniors Call For Cards

secretaries are taking orders for

Thursday, September 18.

Senior Class homeroom

Calling cards went on sale

The marching band is also

Approximately thirty other high school bands representing

Staff leaders, Beth

The annual staff plans to use a faded-out effect on senior girls'

school photographs in the auditorium Thursday,

September 25.

Tommy Andrew.

University.

these ball games.

calling cards.

Cary, and Thomasville.

in organizing the day.

College Day creates an atmosphere of thought for ASHS students.

Students preview next Fall

Representatives from approximately sixty colleges participated in College Day, October 1.

In addition to four year and junior colleges, various business and technical institutes, nursing schools, and branches of the armed services attended.

Students talked with delegates in the gymnasium from 9:00 a.m. 12:00 p.m. Seniors monopolized the gym until 10:30. Juniors took advantage of the remaining time to talk with representatives.

National Honor Society and the guidance department sponsored

Prior to College Day, Mrs. Fry, guidance counselor, tried to meet with each member of the Junior and Senior classes in order to discuss individual plans. Members of the Honor Society and Senior Class officers served as hosts and hostesses. Their duties ranged from providing assistance to both representatives and students to furnishing and serving refreshments for the coffee break.

Several student council members conducted traffic.

the local library club will be host to the November 14th state meeting, in which a new slate of officers will be elected.

In addition to striving to fulfill the club objectives, the librarians serve teachers and other school clubs in any way possible.

Members of VICA clubs from five counties gathered for a district executive meeting here Saturday, October 18.

The organizational meeting was attended by club members from Stanly, Montgomery, Mecklenburg, Cabarrus, and Union counties. Its purpose was to train new officers in their duties for the coming year.

Beginning at 8:00 Saturday morning with registration, the meeting continued with assemblies, business sessions, and training labs until noon.

COMING UP

Student Council
District
Convention Oct. 13
Auditions for Spec-Talo-Scope Oct. 16
Spec-Talo-Scope
Albemarle vs
Concord—There Oct. 17
VICA District
Meeting Here Oct. 16
PSAT for
JuniorsOct. 21
Juniors measured
for Class Rings Oct. 23
All amagin us
Lexington-Here Uct. 24
DECA Convention
Here Oct. 25
Audicions for
Spec-Talo-Scope Oct. 30
Modern Music Masters
Induction Assembly Oct. 31

Youth Help Less Fortunate

Nine students took part in a conference concerning retarded children Saturday, September 20, in Winston-Salem.

Dr. Alanson Hinman, director of the Developmental Evaluation Clinic of Forsyth County conducted a question-answer session concerning problems in working with retarded children.

Information on forming a local chapter of the Youth-North Carolina Association for Retarded Children was available.

David Sutton, Marlyn Massey, Susan Squires, Shep Russell, Joy Preslar, Monte Burleson, Lynn Chivington, Susan Chandler, and Joe Edwards participated in the conference.

The Youth-NCARC plans to provide volunteer service to the mentally retarded, to assist in creating community awareness and understanding of the mentally retarded, and their special needs and abilities, to acquire first hand knowledge of career opportunities in the field of mental retardation and related vocations, to develop leadership abilities in order to insure continuing individual and organizational improvement in preparation for developing 'leaders of tomorrow', to encourage and aid in the formation of additional state and local units of Youth-NCARC, and to meet and work with other young people who share this common interest

Blacks Elected To S.C.

The student body elected Carrie Davis, Marva Morgan, and Paula Williams to serve as honorary Student Council representatives this year.

Newly elected members will attend meetings and participate in all business and activities of the Council.

Early Advises

"What's the use? You can't win 'em all."

'You can't change human nature."

"Everybody's doing it." These remarks provided the subject for Dr. Jack Early in a third period assembly for the installation of Student Council officers September 19.

Dr. Early, president of Pfeiffer College, emphasized the uniqueness of the individual in our republic and urged students to recognize the limitations, abilities, and potentials of the individual. He challenged students to set their own standards and make room for the creative individual.

The assembly consisted of Student Council officers and representatives, led by the marshals. Ernie Whitley, student body president, opened the assembly. Ricky Carpenter, vice president, led devotions, the National Anthem, and the Pledge of Allegiance.

After briefly addressing the students, Mr. Warren Hawkins, principal, administered the oath of office to the officers and representatives and the pledge of loyalty to the student body.

Along with Rocky Funderburk, elected homeroom representative, Black students now number four among the twenty-eight Council members. The percentage of Black participation is one-seventh, the same percentage held in membership of the total student

Students who filed petitions for Council membership are Carrie Davis and Gwen Davis, seniors; Bonnie Brooks, Marva Morgan, and Aquadella Rivers, juniors; and Dwight Funderburk, Linda Kelly, Brenda Pemberton, Alicia Thomas, and Paula Williams, sophomores.

The special election was made possible by the Student Council. Last year they amended the S. O. Constitution, as stated in the Blue and White Handbook, in order to assure equal representation on the Council.

Section one of the amendment states that certain elected Negro representatives join the representatives from each homeroom, members of the Executive Board, class presidents, and publications editors as members of the Council.

Section two grants them the power of voting in the Council. A third section of the amendment specifies the manner of election of Black representatives.

Section four states that the amendment shall be reviewed for renewal or nullification in the 1971-72 school year. The principal and student council will then consider the amendment's validity.

Chocolate Boots Loot

The chocolate sale kick-off assembly, held Thursday, October 2, once again reminded students of their roles as chocolate salesmen.

Rocky Funderburk presided over the assembly. He explained that the chocolate sale is the school's only fund raising project and therefore affects all students. Most of the money raised will be used by school clubs and the Junior class. Each class president presented a speech urging his class to outsell other classes.

This year's sale is being conducted much the same as last year's. Competition will be on class, homeroom, and individual levels. Prizes of thirty, twenty, ten, and five dollars will be awarded to the top four salesmen.

A weekly mystery buyer will participate in the chocolate sale. The student who discovers and sells chocolate to this buyer receives five dollars.

The homeroom selling the most chocolate receives a special surprise.

Patsy Pea Shooter, Paul Plowjock, and Heather the Hippie tell why they like World's Finest Chocolate in the annual "kick off" assembly.

year's draped effect. Band Trips Out

	Convention	Oct.	11
	Auditions for
	Spec-Talo-Scope	Oct.	16
В	All amagricatic
	Concord-There	Oct.	17
	VICA District
	Meeting Here	Oct.	18
	DCAT for
	Juniors	Oct.	21
	Luniore measured
	for Class Rings .	Oct.	23
9	All amage o us
	Lexington-Here	Oct.	24
	PATICA CONVENTION
ш	Here	Oct.	29
	Auditions for		30