

GRADUATION 1991!

Memories, Memories, Memories

With thirteen years behind us, there are lots of memories to be shared as we are about to depart. Whether it was the confusion you had your freshman year, your friends that have stuck by you through thick and thin, or the excitement you are experiencing now as graduation grows nearer, the memories will last forever. Because of limited space, we asked for one specific memory that you will always cherish as you look back on your high school years. The responses were touching and overwhelming. Seniors, congratulations and good luck in the future: The memories will last forever.

Athletically speaking, Andre Ridenhour remembers when the varsity basketball team beat North Stanly his junior year because that was the longest game he's ever played. Rachel Kendall remembers the "dirt kicking" festivities during softball games with Jennifer Eller. Ami Laton's fondest memory is when the Albemarle Varsity Cheerleaders were announced as the 1991 2A State Champions. Pate Butler cherishes going into the softball tournament in fifth place and becoming champions by beating three of the top teams in the conference.

Memories of teachers are sometimes the one thing that sticks with some people for a very long time, and the same falls true for some of our AHS seniors. Scott Taylor's fondest memory is of how clueless he was in Mrs. Riemann's accounting class. Darla Smith remembers Mr. Holcomb standing in the hall between classes yelling to get to class. The day Mr. Hollis got upset about attendance is what Lakesha Andrews remembers. Elaine Benjamin remembers the day Mr. Holcomb tried to teach Spanish but no one could understand anything. Missy Bane best remembers Mr. Taylor and his clipboards. Mike Blagg remembers stepping on Coach Roy Burge's toe his freshman year of football. Aeon Bramban remembers Mrs. Riemann and Mrs. Smith helping her cope with her problems. Brian Brown will always remember Mr. Moran's 4th period drama class. Chemega Campbell will never forget when Mr. Moran, Tomika Butler, and she did "My Girl" in the talent show. Chrystal Crisco remembers Mr. Holcomb's spitting problem while he talks. Jennifer Harris and Brian Helms remember being in Mrs. Bogle's homeroom and hearing her tell them that their notes were unexcused when they went to North Stanly. Frank Lilly remembers Mr. Furr having a shiny beard!?! Travis Morehead remembers Mr. Taylor's clipboards, Mrs. Hatley's tongue, and Mr. Morgan making seniors march in the assembly again. Carla Morgan remembers not having to go see Mrs. Ward once. Mr. Holcomb's "the bell hath rung" saying will always be remembered by Jennifer Runion. Jerry Smith will never forget all of his conferences with Mr. Taylor and Mr. Morgan. Tony Thomas remembers the feeling he felt when he passed Mr. Morgan on the way back to school from Pizza Hut. Millie Williams will always remember the good times she had in Mrs. Dennis' English class and on band trips.

On a "friendly" note, Jack Baldwin remembers T.R. "Fatback" Russell's woodpecker song after they would win an away baseball game. Jennifer Cook will ALWAYS remember all of her wonderful memories with Mike. Kim Cranford remembers how her dear friends were there for her when Patrick died, especially Jason. Heather Thompson remembers the time she spent with Jeff Brown and her friends. Tiffany Hamilton remembers the way the school joined together and supported each other during the three tragic deaths that have happened in the past four years. Domita Lilly remembers lunch, friends, and teachers. Kevin Lawrence remembers all the girls that wanted to go out with him. Mike Kendall remembers when Mr. Stewart and Lori Maiden kissed a pig. Lori's fondest memory was on July 12, the summer of her freshman year. Lisa McKinney remembers trying to get along with everybody and staying out of trouble. Theresa Butler remembers cutting up with Meika and Wyonnina in band class. Tammi Epperson will always remember her friends. Mike Furr remembers on all of the wrestling trips and the time spent with Mike Blagg. Genny Hayden remembers that she and Karen S. always getting "thirsty" in advanced art and the time spent with M.S. Carl Lamb remembers all of the friends he's met. Jennifer Pelt remembers the experiences she's had with Jennifer Harris and being with Daniel Chester. Chris Vanhoy remembers the good times spent with all his friends and the caring among all of them. Chris Smithing remembers being held down by Mike Furr while Mike Blagg headbutted him during wrestling practice. Tanya Whitley remembers when she and Jody Moree got thrown out of the library and were told to never enter that area again. Frances Thompson remembers JAVO's creation of NFD day their freshman year in Algebra. Jonathan and Jennifer will always remember the end.

About our freshman year..... Julie Arbuckle remembers walking through the doors her first day and thinking about getting lost. David Dulin remembers the first day at AHS when he walked in his first class. Jennifer Rositano remembers her first day of high school like it was yesterday. Jennifer Jones remembers the shock she felt her first day of her freshman year. Rosalind Garmon remembers running track her freshman year and "mama" putting her in the 300 hurdles.

About our senior year..... Kristi Griffin remembers the great times during her senior year. Angie Mauney will never forget the struggle for good grades she's had throughout her four years and then making honor roll her senior year. Ernest Rushing remembers becoming a senior in the summer of 1990. Oshi Sims remembers falling at the Parkwood track meet her senior year.

Assortment would best describe the last set of memories written by various seniors. Marcille Smith remembers the Bermuda Triangle and all its victims. Jason Hazlett remembers "CB". Bill Donnelly remembers dissecting the cat in Biology II. David Almond remembers his car wreck. Meonne Blalock will never forget being persued to leave school on a "too pretty of a day to be in school" and only returning for a trip to the BARN! Misti Brown remembers coming to Albemarle and meeting Michelle Brown not knowing that she would soon be her sister-in-law. Joey Drye remembers becoming a mature guy and making a lot of friends. Greg Emerson will never forget when he and Ward tried to be slick one night by putting pillows under the covers (to pretend they were actually asleep) and sneaking out only to return with the pillows uncovered!! Elliott Parker remembers all of the fun. Daniel Chester remembers his three years of art and all of the parties. Melissa Cody remembers transferring to Albemarle 2 years ago. Michelle Brown remembers winning the Festival in Tennessee her sophomore year. Ginger Burleson will never forget sitting out in the cold on band trips yelling and cheering for the football team. Melissa Lambert remembers not getting caught for things that she should have been sent to the barn for. Christie Marks remembers getting caught for skipping school. Warren Misenheimer will never forget the "preps". Jill Morris will never forget all of the band contests and how much fun they were. T.R. Russell will never forget all of the parties. Trexlar Ratliff remembers lunch. Victor Moua will always remember being crowned Powder Puff Queen. Shannon Scheble remembers the conversations she had with her partners in Biology II. Tamiko Shankle will never forget all of the fights on English hall during first period. Greta Thompson remembers the cold marching seasons. Jennifer Gelien will never forget hearing "First Place" at band competition. As for me, my fondest memory occurred my freshman year when Greg Emerson pulled down my gym shorts in front of my entire gym class (fortunately, I had on a long T-shirt). Thanks, Greg!!

Again, seniors, congratulations and the best of luck in the future.
