Aldridge, Huneycutt, and Eller Nominated for Morehead Award

By Jessica Poplin

The Morehead Scholar nominees for 1991-92 are Jennifer Eller, Stephen Aldridge, and Jill Huneycutt. In order to be nominated, these students had to exhibit moral force of character, capacities to lead and to motivate fellow students, scholastic ability, and extracurricular attainments, plus physical vigor. The Morehead award is composed of a $9,400 grant for each year, part of which will go toward the year's tuition, board, room, laundry, books, student fees, and incidental expenses. The other part will cover the cost of Summer Enrichment Programs. The nominees must go through several different rounds of interviews to be chosen for this award.

Stephen Aldridge has been an officer of the Student Council for 2 consecutive years. He is currently holding the position of Student Council President. He is also a member of the AHS band and is one of the band captains. Stephen is also a member of Quiz Bowl, the International Club, the Science Club, the National Honor Society, AHS Jazz Band, and was recently chosen as a member of the new Charlotte Observer Teen Panel. Stephen was the Student Rotarian for the month of September. During basketball season Stephen will be found keeping stats for the girls' and boys' team.

Jill Huneycutt is currently occupying the position of Student Council Treasurer. She is also president of the BADD club, editor of the yearbook, president of the National Honor Society, vice president of the International Club, a member of the Science Club and of the Spanish Club. Jill was also picked for the Who's Who Among American High School Students and was the Lion's Club Student of the Month for September.

Jennifer Eller is a 3 year letterman in softball and a 2 year letterman in basketball. She is now serving as Chaplain for the National Honor Society. Jennifer has attended Summer Ventures, Converse College Leadership Conference, and National Science Foundation Young Scholars' Program in Physics. She has been chosen to be in the Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Good Luck to each of these students as they represent AHS in this competition.

These outstanding seniors hope to attend UNC-CH as Morehead Scholars.

Mrs. Dennis and senior class officers make plans for senior orders day.

Black Culture Club Offers Unique Opportunity

By Mysty Blalock and Jessica Poplin

The Black Culture Club, a newly formed club at AHS, is supporting efforts of students, especially black students, to become more active and involved in their educational process. Their sponsor, Mrs. Agnes Maske, notes that the club wants to give support in various areas, including academics and extracurricular activities; the group also hopes to organize ways to help the black community become more involved with the school.

One of their first projects will be to help organize the meeting to be held at the E.E. Waddell Center on November 7. At this meeting, Mr. Gilbert McGregor, well-known sports figure and motivational speaker, will be the featured part of the program. Black Culture Club members will help publicize the event and encourage parents of AHS students to attend this meeting.

The Black Culture Club will also plan Black History Month activities for Albemarle High School during February. Additionally, they hope to set up a tutoring service at the E.E. Waddell Center at scheduled times for those who may need assistance with homework.

This club offers a unique opportunity to students who participate; better self-concept, better understanding, and a sense of pride are some of the benefits it offers.

Black Culture Club Officers consult with Mrs. Maske.

Swanner, Morgan Chosen as '91 Queens

By Mysty Blalock

The student council and varsity cheerleaders united to bring AHS a great homecoming. It started with the best pep rally that has been held in many years. Students participated in many events, including the three legged race, the tricycle race, and everybody's favorite, the jello-bob, where Mr. Taylor embraced a swimming pool full of red jello.

Then came the night of the game. With the score close, the crowd was ready for a wonderful half time ceremony. Adrian Dennis, Danny Landis, Dion Brooks, and Antwan Duncan escorted the sponsors on to the field to homecoming's theme song "You Are So Beautiful." The crowd was quiet as Gary Moran announced the Homecoming Court. Junior Court included Kim Smith and Leslie Boyd. The Senior Court was comprised of Leah Hill and Peaches Burns. The Homecoming Queens were Angie Morgan and Alicia Swanner. When the girls were escorted to the front, Ashley Burleson and Emily Stonesteeet gave the the Court roses. Thanks to the cheerleaders who worked hard to pay for the homecoming archway and to Ms. Terry for organizing the event.

The exciting moment arrives: Queens Alicia Swanner and Angie Morgan receive their crowns.

College Day . . . Or Night?

By Natasha Byrd

College Night will soon be here! There is a new twist to College Day this year. It will be held November 14 from 7:00-8:00 PM in the school cafeteria.

This is the night many seniors and juniors will meet with college admissions representatives to decide which college they are interested in. Students can talk to the representatives and learn many things about that college. The college atmosphere, financial aid, scholarships, and majors offered are just some of the information students can gather from representatives. Both seniors and juniors will be encouraged to visit the college campuses.

The importance of College Night is different for juniors and seniors. Seniors are making their final decisions as they talk to the representatives. This is probably the last chance they will get to look at all their choices. The juniors are taking their first real look at a college that interests them. They will not be making any final decisions, but they will look at College Night very seriously.

The importance of College Night should stay in the minds of all students. As the college representatives come from all over the state to talk to AHS students, we should take this chance to learn all we can about furthering our education. College Night is the time to do this.

Leslie didn't realize college applications were so time-consuming!
