The Adventures of Hick and Huzz

by Dustin Poplin and Mary Nance

Hello, once again it's Hick and Huzz with another wonderful, demented story. Our adventure began when we were sitting in one another's arms reminiscing of when we first met at our family reunion. It was a wonderful day when I was reunited with my sister, Huzz, who looked so beautiful among the other family members. That's when I knew she had to be mine-and only mine-oh yes, mine. After the fun and games that goes along with a family reunion, I popped the big question and we started a long, wonderful, passionate kiss that seemed to last forever. We eventually stopped due to the cold stares of our family members. Well, enough of the Hick and Huzz "meeting story."

I thought I should do something nice for our first Valentine's Day together. I decided to go all out and buy her a candy bracelet (grape) and matching ear bobs. I'm certain to score with a gift of this caliber. Shoot, we may even go bowling, even skeet shooting. A day well planned nonetheless.

The awaited day of the Cupid finally came. I woke up quite early and left her beautiful candy necklace and ear bobs on the pillow on our bed. I left in our Big Foot Terminator Truck to go to the early morning tractor pull in the next county. When I came home, I found my sister/wife Huzz wearing her new Valentine jewelry. We climbed into our truck and rode off to go skeet shooting. Is this love or what?

Huzz points out which candy bracelet she wants for Valentine's Day.

Are You Romantic?

by Mandy Poston

Now that February is here, everyone's heart is getting bigger as Valentine's Day nears. Now is the time that all the romantics decide to come out and show their true inner self. People show their true feelings for others in many different ways. Some people think that flowers are the perfect gift for their special loved one. Others like to show their affection by giving candy and balloons. If you are thinking about maybe doing something different this year, try cooking something special for your loved one. Remember, girls, the way to a man's heart is his stomach. I asked a few students here at AHS if they were romantic, and if so how? Here is what a few of the students had to say.

Beth Vanderburg: Yes, I am romantic, at least the men that call my 976# say so.

Thomas Taylor: Of course, my woman prefers me to speak in body language.

Jethro Plow-Jock: Heck yeah! Nothing too good for the queen of my double-wide.

Susan Rose: Yes, I leave little love notes for him in different places.

Danyel Bailey: I am not sure. Ask Ross.

David Little: Yes, I have written many poems for that certain someone, but I do not let her read them until I know she cares.

Katie Ellis: I like flowers and candy, but words mean more.

Laura Cauble: Heck yeah I am! One knows because he is the only one I have actually cared about. With most of my other boyfriends I would search for ways to torture them without them knowing that I was trying to. It has been fun.

Gary Her: No, I am not romantic. Why kiss up when you know she loves you?!

David Efird: I buy girls my ZX2000 Efird doll. It really turns them on.

Jamie Simmons and Cytrina Leake look forward to a Valentine's Day together.

Cupid Chatter

by Kristina Scott

C - Coming once again, it's Valentine's Day, On the 14th of February, not in May.

Love is in the air and Cupid is too, Shooting arrows at me and you.

U - Using your money to buy a gift, Never underestimate shopping at the Thrift.

Roses and chocolates to name a few, Or being original is nothing new.

P - People searching for someone on this day, Grab a companion and in a few words say:

"Valentine's Day is a special time, Don't be greedy, just spare a dime!"

I - It's the day of the year when everyone is in love,

Put your arm around someone and look above, The snow will leave, but it will come again,

Sending roses is never a sin.

D-Deliver your gift personally, if you can, Avoid the mail and be a man!

After giving your gift, give her a kiss, As this Valentine's Day, you won't wanna miss!

Bits of Green Cheese

by Mandy Poston and Kristina Scott

Now that we are back from our long Christmas and snow vacation, we have opened our ears and are ready to hear of all of those juicy bits. The gossip at AHS never ends. We'll always find something or someone to talk about.

Steve's Valentine's Top Ten

by Steve Adcock

Well, it's Valentine's Day and that means it is time for another one of my famous "Top Ten Lists." These are the top ten male pet peeves about being in love.

10. You can't call Baywatch "Babewatch" anymore.

9. No more renting Showgirls.

8. Always trying to look cooler than that Adcock guy.

7. Having to watch Bridges of Madison County. (It bites.)

6. Convincing all your other dates that the girl you are always seen with is your sister.

5. Getting rid of your Sports Illustrated swimsuit issues.

4. Learning the phrase, "That dress doesn't make your rear look too big."

3. Spending all the moola over at Burger King.

2. Keeping that darn toilet seat down.

1. Remembering the chick's name.
