The Adventures of Hick and Huzz

by Hick and Huzz

Aren't you sad? This is the last Hick and Huzz story of the '95-'96 school year. This will be the last wickedly demented adventure full of death and violence of the year. Well, let's get on with it.

It all started when Huzz and I were talking of all the unwanted people we've killed this year. We remembered the time that I made hamburger of Bertha's face because she didn't carry the Red Man tobacco that Huzz enjoys so very much and the time that we went to the Thanksgiving Tractor Pull/Rodeo/Turkey Shoot in Finger. Also, we reminisced about bashing Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny. Those were the days. Well, we decided that we had not done away with an acceptable amount of people. We must get to work. Huzz decided she must stab thirty people with her new Instant Death knife. So Huzz went grocery shopping at the local Piggly Wiggly and quickly stabbed a plethora of old women. I suddenly felt the need to kill approximately five hundred people myself. I made a huge bomb and placed it in the middle of the local mall. Everyone died. It was great with the big boom, the screams, the lights, and the sirens. Oh yes, great! All of this death made Huzz and I realize how much we meant to one another. I took my sister/lover by the hands and gave her a huge, passionate kiss. I even rented her an expensive hotel room to show my feelings!

Hick and Huzz beat innocent pedestrians after reminiscing about the good times.

Memories, Memories

by Kristina Scott

As the seniors are preparing for graduation, college, and leaving AHS, they are also beginning to wonder about the things they will miss. For the past four years, many seniors have made lots of memories and met people they will remember forever. Now that the '95-'96 school year comes to a close, I decided to go around and ask all of our seniors what they will miss the most about AHS and things they are leaving behind. With all of my responses, I summarized that all of the seniors are ready to leave and are counting the days to May 31.

Emily Hinson and Kristina Scott will leave THE HUT behind.

Beth Vanderburg-I'll be at Stanly Tech and I'll still have Chad. I guess I'm the one being left behind, but my REAL friends know where to find me.

Eric Lowder-I'll leave my cartel business to Officer Martin. He can also have my hand-grenades and TNT.

Jon Osborn-Freedom, or lack of it.

Laura Cauble-I am leaving EVERYTHING behind.

Thomas Taylor-My ability to sleep in Chemistry II and still get good grades.

David Little-My ability to turn really red and my shyness.

Emily Hinson-I will leave Kristina and THE HUT behind.

Jennifer Lowder-I leave behind 5th and Main to be worked upon by all wonderful women like myself.

April Bailey-I leave behind my memories with all of the seniors on the basketball team and playing in my last game.

Brian Herring-I'm giving leftover cookie crumbs and plastic forks, which were stolen, to all of the hungry children who forgot their bag lunches.

Oralya Flake-The AHS Band.

Khristina Butler-NADA!

Dustin Poplin-I'll miss playing sports for the school.

Mandy Poston- Friends and my little sweetie pie, Shane.

Shawna Euto-The wonderful taste of our cafeteria's food.

Graduation Chatter

| G Graduation will soon be here,To all of you seniors: never fear!                            | T Going off to college; get all your things to pack.   |
| R Rest and sleep are coming soon,Or lying in the sun and swimming around noon.               | T The best years of your life are now,Beginning a new one, without knowing how.                          |
| A All your teachers and friends will be missedAnd even the nerds, whom you always dished.    | I In the past long years, you've worked very hard;It's finally paying off with a 'Congratulations' card. |
| D Don't even worry about walking the stage,You'll get your diploma and get out of this cage! | O On May 31st, the seniors are saying "good-bye",With smiles on their faces, maybe even a cry.           |
| U Underneath it all, it's kind of sad,Leaving friends, siblings, mom and dad.                | N Not tears of sadness, but tears of joy;They throw their caps in the air and cry, "Oh, boy!"            |
| A Albemarle will be the same when you come back,   |   |

Bits of Green Cheese

by Mandy Poston and Kristina Scott

To all of you "bits" fans, we are finally leaving. But for our last article, we'd like to give all of the Class of '96 a lot of bits to enjoy for the last time. Our whole student body has done a good job of giving us a ton of gossip to discuss all year long. Maybe next year, you'll have some more issues to talk about in a new edition of "BITS OF GREEN CHEESE." Thank you all for a great year.

- What senior girl can't get a life, so she ruins others?
- What senior guy is trying to invent a cordless pay phone?
- What senior guy accidentally got stuck with two dates to the prom?
- What junior girl passed out in the middle of class?
- What 3 seniors left school (without signing out) for a quick trip to the store without getting caught?
- What freshman girl fell down the bleachers at a track meet?
- What senior girl got in trouble for having a few too many friends over when her parents went out of town?
- What senior girl escaped from getting a speeding ticket of 74 in a 35?
- What freshman and sophomore guys almost caused an AHS couple to break up?
- What senior girl left her pants unzipped during AP English?
- What two junior guys almost got sued by the Big Lots manager?
- What senior girl had only her undergarments on under her cap and gown during pictures?
- What senior guy waited two weeks before the prom to tell his senior date that he was taking his older woman?
- What senior girl seems to have a recurring illness every year?
- What junior guys got ready three weeks in advance for the prom after-party?
- What sophomore guy's Jeep broke down in front of the school?
- What sophomore girl received a standing ovation in third lunch for dropping her lunch tray on the floor?
- What junior girl drove a 454 Chevy Supersport belonging to someone named Waldo?
- What senior girl got accidentally spit on by her teacher?
