

CLASS NEWS

The TV Tattler by Class 12-2

We, the members of 12-2, would like to give our impressions of Dillard in the TV language we have adopted since we miss our daily programs so much. The following may be found in our own private encyclopedia:

- "Not For Hire"—My place on the lunch line
- "Tombstone Territory" — The principal's office
- "The Edge of Night" — The first school bus
- "Clutch Cargo" — Girls Handbags
- "Search for Tomorrow"—Homework
- "A Brighter Day" — Graduation
- "The Guiding Light"—Mr. J. H. Wooten

THE WISHING WELL

By Class 12-2

Now that we have started our last round at Dillard High, we have begun working on our Last Will and Testament in the hope that some of our desires will materialize before we leave our beloved Alma Mater. We want: "Tidy uppers instead of Litter Bugs; Eager Beavers instead of Hall Walkers; Library Users instead of Loud Talkers; Learners and Doers instead of Chatters and Chewers."

CLASS OFFICERS

President, Barbara Richardson; vice president, Minnie Baldwin; secretary, Muriel White; assistant secretary, Jo Anne Ward; treasurer, Shelton Wooten; parliamentarian, Lyndon Patterson; Sgt-at-Arms, David White.

Student Council Representatives are Brenda Crawford and Larry Reid.

The Junior starts his year with a whirl of activities. Aside from heavy class assignments his interest in selection of class officers, plans for a class play and Junior-Senior prom are great. Recently they elected officers as follows:

President, Claude Hatch; vice president, Luther Dawson; secretary, Mary F. Cherry; assistant secretary, Angeline Moore; treasurer, Barbara Spencer; chaplain, Nannie Johnson; Marshal, Alexander Bryant; Business Manager, James Swinson.

SOPHOMORES PROUD OF PROGRESS

The freshmen of last year were very proud to return to school this year with their new classification, "Sophomores." They surely want to become good Juniors.

During the summer, many of the girls that weren't old enough last year, went to Connecticut along with a number of boys from the class. From all indications they enjoyed their work very much.

There are eight tenth grade sections with an enrollment of 419. The classes are organized and ready for work.

Many of them are engaged in some activities and soon will be participating in others. The football team has a large number of sophomores this year. Many girls and boys find music enjoyable and are members of the glee club, and band.

Dillard Library Club Elects New Officers

Members of the Dillard Library Club recently met and elected officers for the year:

President, Norma Cherry; vice president, Martha Borden, secretary, Connie Best; corresponding secretary, Nettie Shearrod; treasurer, Kenneth Bagley; chaplain, Nannie Johnson; Business Manager, James Swinson and Parliamentarian, Mildred Carlisle.

The club's sponsor is Mrs. J. W. Manns.

Dillard Gym—ready for use—The Dillard HS gymnasium was formally accepted by the Goldsboro Board of Education September 26, and is now ready for use. The modern building completed at a cost of $250,000 has a seating capacity of approximately 1000 and has ample space for offices for directors, showers, lockers and physical education classes.

Students Enter Other High Schools

Every year for various reasons Dillard students who have not completed their high school work, find it necessary to enter other high schools. This year's list includes: Kelly Troy, Douglass High School, Upper Mulboro, Md; Marion Exum, Washington Irvin High School, New York, N. Y.; Carolyn Ford, Jane Addams Vocational School, Bronx, N. Y.; Geneva Wooten, Dunbar High School, Washington, D. C.; Cora Jones, Dunbar High School, Baltimore, Md.; Norman Vinson and Carl Faust, Norwayne School, Wayne Co.; Earl Swan, Lumberton High School, Lumberton, N. C.; Glenwood Burden, Goldsboro High School; William Best, Central High School, Wayne, County.

Safety — Watchword Of Bus Drivers

Students selected to drive the school buses this year have chosen as their watchword, Safety—which means they will try very hard to avoid all accidents. The list includes Floyd Packer who has Neuse Heights and North end section, Thaddeus Coley and John Taylor, North end area; Levi Hamilton, Jr., Seymore Johnson Air Force Base and Johnson Air Fore Base and John Faison, Cherry Hospital.

All are Dillard seniors.

Five On Lunchroom Staff At Dillard High

The Dillard High Lunchroom Staff consists of five persons. They are: Mrs. Mattie Lincoln, manager; Mrs. Julie Mae King, cook; Mrs. Mary Pridgen, baker; Mrs. Mildred Cates and Mrs. Jeanette Hamm, general helpers.

Connie Best, a senior, assists the staff in selling milk. We wish to congratulate the staff members and Connie Best for putting forth such great efforts in serving our lunches.

WHOSE DATE ?

He's been on the date list now for a whole year, Talking jesting and just bringing up the rear. He never knows left from right And is always running to keep out of sight.

He seems too uncertain to go as a steady, And for the lack of funds he is never ready. He's witty but scary as a little gray mouse, And never knows when it's time to leave his date's house.

If these are characteristics of your date, Let him go before it's too late.

Hawkins, Former Coach Resigns

Former Dillard coach and classroom teacher recently resigned his position here to accept a position in another school in the state.

R. O. Hawkins, an athletic coach and teacher of social studies since 1959 at Dillard, has accepted a position as athletic coach at Williston High School, Wilmington, N. C.

Mr. Hawkins who never was able to conceal his grief when the Tigers were down, expressed his regrets in leaving, but hopefully reminded the boys that he would return in flying colors for the Homecoming game October 12.
