

TEACHING PROFESSION CALLS MANY GIRLS FROM MEREDITH

It is always of interest to know something about old Meredith girls, especially those who have been here in the days of the majority of the present student body. Some come back to see us occasionally, others make themselves very obscure.

Meredith girls have chosen many professions, but teaching seems to hold the pre-eminent place. Meredith has turned out many a "school marm." Approximately twenty-four of last year's senior class are engaged in this worthy calling. Cornelia Ayres is teaching Home Economics and Science at Benson. Annie Hall Baity is teaching in the high school department at Snow Hill. Four of last year's graduates are at Red Oak High School. Sallie Mae Beal is teaching history; Inez Boyd, Latin; Christine Judd, English; and Elizabeth Cullom, mathematics. Mildred Beasley is teaching at her home in Kenansville. Three of the class of '21 are teaching in colleges. Jeannette Biggs is teaching Home Economics in G. W. C., at Greenville S. C., where Miss Rosa Paschal, '02, so well known to us is Dean, and Nell Paschal, '18, is Librarian. Ruth Goldsmith is back with us as instructor in piano. Mary Johnson is teaching chemistry at the University of West Virginia, and is also doing graduate work in science and mathematics. Evelyn Bridger is teaching in Chatham County. Moultrie Drake is teaching in a private school at her home in Bennettsville, S. C. Louise Fleming is pursuing her studies at Columbia University. Edith Jenkins is teaching at Cliffside. Hild Judd and Flora Parker are teaching graded work at Hendersonville. Mary Lynn Judd is teaching in the high school at her home in Sanford. Alberta Lamm is teaching mathematics in Bear Creek High School. Alva Lawrence is also teaching mathematics in Olive's Chapel High School. Coralie Parker is teaching history in the high school in Windsor. Lulie Penton, Louise Powell, Mary Lee Caldwell, and Annabel Bridger are spending the winter at their respective homes. Ella Pierce is at the Training School in Louisville, Ky., as are also three other Meredith girls; Katie Murray, '19, Mary Sue Hunt, '20, and Marjorie Spence, '20. Lulie Reynolds is taking post graduate work at her Alma Mater. Sybil Smith is Director of Physical Culture for the city schools of Almond, N. Y. Gertrude Smitherman is teaching mathematics and French at Stoneville. Mary Edith Sullivan and Lois Miller, another former Meredith girl, are teaching in Thomasville Baptist Orphan age. Sarah Taylor is head of the history de-

MISS CAMPBELL BRINGS INSPIRED LESSONS TO STUDENTS

Miss Campbell, as usual, conducted our Friday chapel services. She continued her discussion of the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians and added Unselfishness to her list of the characteristics of Love. The previous attributes which Miss Campbell had pointed out to us are Patience, Humility, and Courtesy. Unselfishness, says Miss Campbell, is that which help us to get along with our room-mates who are not altogether congenial. And it is Unselfishness, more than any other characteristic, that will help us to make friends and to keep them.

After the religious exercises, Katherine Brown put before the student body the suggestion that The Twig be put in the budget. After some discussion this suggestion was voted on and carried almost unanimously.

Beth Carroll explained to us about the Fair holidays. It has been proposed that Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday be given and that a whole day be added to the Christmas holidays. The applause, when this plan was told, was such that a formal vote was not even taken.

Some mention was made of our ideals of becoming "four square" girls but the ringing of the class bell cut short this discussion. Further explanation was postponed until later.

A TOUCHING BALLAD

A tree toad loved a she toad
That lived up in a tree;
She was a 3-toed tree toad
But a 2-toed toad was he.
The 2-toed tree toad tried to win
The she toad's friendly nod;
For the 2-toed tree toad loved the ground
That the 3-toed tree toad trod.
But vainly the 2-toed tree toad tried,
He couldn't please her whim;
In her tree toad bower,
With her V-toed power,
The she toad V-toed him.

Madge H.—Of what does hash remind you?

Evelyn B.—Of love; you have to have confidence in it to enjoy it.

Margaret Overturn—My mother doesn't like society girls, so I am going to retract from the Astro Society.

WEDDING BELLS RING FOR SEVERAL FORMER MEREDITH GIRLS

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Johnston, of Bristol, Tenn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Louise, to Lieut. George Whitfield McMillan, Coast Artillery, U. S. A.

Miss Myrtle Parrish, a former member of the class of '22, was married August 24, to Mr. Clifford Dean. The happy couple are now residing at Louisburg, where Mr. Dean is an enterprising young farmer.

SHOWER IN HONOR OF BRIDE-ELECT

Greenville, Oct. 9.—On Thursday afternoon at her home on Dickerson Ave., Mrs. James B. Turner entertained in honor of Miss Lelia Higgs, who on October 19, is to become the bride of Dr. J. D. Humber. The guests were cordially greeted at the door by the hostess and invited into the dining room which was artistically decorated with cut flowers and lighted tapers, toning in with the lovely Japanese luncheon set which adorned the table. Tea and delicious sandwiches were served. During the afternoon, amid jests and laughter the guests embroidered and crocheted linen and bath towels which were presented to the bride-elect.

STUDIO PARTY

Last Thursday evening from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock, a charming Studio Party was given for a few of her friends by Miss Claudilene Sykes. The "Y" rooms, in which the hostess received her guests, were lovely with ferns and cut flowers. The rose shaded lights and the great log fire added that note of cozy cheerfulness which we most always associate with winter in her happiest moods. With such a setting the toasting of marshmallows was of course inevitable. Two of the guests, Misses Stainback and Durham, entertained with guitars.

Later in the evening, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Beulah Cooper, served a delicious salad course with hot chocolate.

The guests were: Misses Stainback, Durham and Insee, and Messrs Insee, Henry, Stallings and Langley.

Junior—Do you know why the four stages of the moon?

Soph.—No! Why?

Junior—Because the seniors are like the last quarter—just enough left for gas.—Ex.
