ROSA HOCUTT B.Y. P. U. GIVES PICNIC TO THE SOPHIE LANNEAU UNION

If you had taken a ride or a walk on the Wake Forest Road Saturday afternoon between the hours of five and six o'clock you would probably have seen the happiest group of girls that you have seen lately, making their way to Mordecai Spring. Each had the appearance of being a real sport, walking briskly and carrying her sofa pillow.

Upon our arrival at the Spring each girl threw aside her pillow and went in search of sticks, limbs and logs for the bonfire which was built on the hill top above the Spring. When enough of these had been gathered, Miss Rogers, our adviser, announced that each girl was to broil bacon strips and "wiennies" for her own supper. Ah! But didn't we feel like saying "Well, ain't we got fun?" With the bacon and "wiennies," rolls, hot coffee and pickles were served. Later, everyone joined heartily in the toasting of marshmallows.

After the delightful supper we all sat down around the burning coals and sang old and familiar songs, such as "My old Kentucky Home" and "Love's old Sweet Song."

At seven thirty o'clock we departed for home everyone singing merrily our dear "Alma Mater" and thanking Miss Rogers for all she is doing for our Union and particularly for this, one of the nicest socials of the season.

A rare treat was ours on Saturday morning when Mr. W. T. Bost, who through his pen has commanded much attention and admiration throughout the state gave us a delightful talk. His subject was "Joy," which, he said, though it was as easy for the poor to get as for the rich, and for the illiterate as for the literate, only few people ever attain.

Mr. E. L. Middleton, a prominent Baptist, serving as Secretary of the State Sunday School Board, and a close friend of Meredith, conducted our devotional exercises at the chapel service on Wednesday morning. His talk was helpful and impressive. One passage of scripture which he read included this: 2 Timothy, 2:15—"Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth"—a verse familiar to all B. Y. P. U. workers.

INTERESTING WEDDING OF NOTABLE ALUMNA RECENTLY SOLEMNIZED

Greenville, N. C., Oct. 21.—The first wedding ever celebrated in the Immanuel Baptist church of this town occurred on Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock, when Miss Leila Shields Higgs became the bride of Dr. John Davis Humber, of San Francisco, Cal. White, with touches of green, was the prevailing color, and the effect was unusually beautiful. The church, with its white woodwork and ivory walls, lent itself well to the decorations of massive ferns, smilax and pine Japanese symbol of long life and happiness, with myriads of white candles gleaming among the dark foliage.

The ceremony was preceded by two beautiful soprano solos by Miss Jessie Moye, "Call Me Thine, Dear," from the opera L'Elair, and "Until," by Sanderson. There followed a violin solo by Miss Charlotte Ruegger. Miss Ruegger is an artist well known in Europe and America and her masterful playing of "Romance" by Wienioroski and "Souvenir" by Drdla was a real treat to the congregation. The accompaniments for the soloists and the wedding marches were skilfully played by Miss Elizabeth Futrell, of Scotland Neck, N. C. She used Mendelssohn's wedding march as a processional, and the stirring march from Tamhauser as a recessional.

Dr. R. T. Vann, of Raleigh who officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents, performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. J. B. Turner, pastor of the Immanuel church. Dr. Vann's ceremony, which is original with him, is an unusually beautiful and impressive one, and its solemnity and dignity were enhanced by the soft tones of the violin and piano in "To A Wild Rose."

The bridal party entered in the following order: first, the ushers, Messrs. Robert Green and William White. They were followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen, who entered alternately down each side. Misses Helene and Elizabeth Higgs, both of Greenville, were followed by Dr. Karl Paec, of Greenville, and Mr. William Jones, classmate of the groom at Wake Forest. Then came Misses Mary MacKenzie, of Chadbourn, and Novella Moye, of Greenville; Messrs. C. W. Hearne and Burney Warren, both of Greenville; Misses Madeline Brown, of Rich-

MISS CAMPBELL FINISHES HER TALK ON PAUL'S EULOGY OF LOVE

Miss Campbell, on Friday morning, completed the discussion of the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians. Through the spectrum of Love, she added these characteristics: Guilelessness, from the phrase "thinketh no evil"; Sincerity, from the verse, "Rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth;" and Steadfastness, from the line "Charity never faileth." Then, the student body repeated with Miss Campbell that divine, immortal, and inspiring chapter. Special emphasis was put on the verses: "Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things," and, "And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

MRS. SIMMS ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Simms invited her Sunday school class out to her home Thursday afternoon, the thirteenth. The girls were met at the door by Mrs. Simms, and then conducted to the library, where a cozy fire awaited them. Interesting subjects were discussed concerning the class. Mrs. Simms, assisted by her little daughter, served delicious ice cream and cake, nuts and candy. All had such a good time, that the afternoon soon passed away, and the girls reluctantly turned their faces homeward.

SUNDAY SCHOOL IN THE "Y" ROOM

Have you heard about the Sunday school classes that meet in the "Y" room? If not, listen. We have two classes, one taught by Mrs. Wilbur Bunn and the other by Mrs. R. N. Simms. Both are splendid teachers. If you don't believe it, come and see for yourself. These classes were organized to relieve some of the congestion at the Tabernacle, and while meeting up here, are connected with the Tabernacle Sunday school. We have our opening exercises together and go to the Church for the closing exercises. Both classes extend to you a hearty welcome, and invite you to come and join them.

Newish B. Rogers—"Do you see that scar on my leg?"

H. Plybon—"Yes, what caused it?"

B. Rogers—"That's where the crank hit me"—(meaning Ford crank).
