

SENIORS HAVE AN ENJOYABLE PARTY SATURDAY NIGHT

On Saturday evening, November 19, Mrs. Cooper and the Club Seniors delightfully entertained the Senior Class and their friends to a reminiscence party. The guests were received at the door by Misses Bert Moore and Juanita Arnette and were then ushered into the "Y" room which was effectively decorated in green and white, the class colors. Presently all found themselves engaged in the interesting task of embroidering animals. This contest in art was won by Mr. Courtney Kestler.

Then after all had secured partners by the process of drawing numbers and each had succeeded in the attempt to make the other laugh, Miss Hettie Huggins the Master of Ceremonies took charge and the reminiscences began. Instantly we were all carried back to our long-forgotten freshmen days. Rapidly we passed over the days of quarantine pausing for one of our class meetings. Miss Beth Carroll who had led us through all the perils of that first year, presided. Briefly we reviewed our accomplishments as Sophomores. But we could not pass this year by without recalling the many pleasant hours spent on Latin class. Miss Dick Felton cleverly impersonating the absent Miss Allen.

From Sophomores to Juniors and Physiology Miss Bert Moore as Dr. Dixon Carroll brought back to us the many miraculous cures wrought by that marvelous physician. But our flight over the sea of memory was ended for we had reached our Senior year and tho we could review the past, we could not foresee the future. Miss Huggins, however, expressed the hopes of all when she prophesied a similar party ten years hence.

The color scheme was also artistically carried out in the delicious refreshments, cream, cake and mints, served by the officers of the Sophomore Class. All were sorry when Mrs. Cooper announced that the tenthirty bell had rung our party was brought to a close, after a most enjoyable evening.

Meredith was very fortunate last Friday morning in having Dr. A. H. Creel to conduct its chapel services. Dr. Creel is known throughout the Southern Baptist territory as a leader in the work of the secondary denominational schools. The main thought of his talk was that if we intend to live worth while lives we must use whatever knowledge that we have for the benefit of the Kingdom.

SATURDAY NIGHT IS A GALA OCCASION FOR THE FRESHMEN

On Saturday evening, in response to very attractive invitations issued by the Juniors, the Freshman class spent an enjoyable evening in the Astro and Phi Halls. On entering the Astro Hall, the Freshmen were greeted by their "big sisters", who pinned names of famous people on their backs. Much merriment was afforded in guessing whom they represented. Various games were enjoyed throughout the evening. One of the most interesting features was a grand march, when the costumes were judged by Dr. Brewer, Miss Campbell, and Miss Eiberg. The prizes for the most original and attractive costume were given Leona Caldwell, dressed as an Italian flower girl, and Louise Mays, representing Buster Brown. They were next invited into the Phi Hall, where a delicious salad course was served in a unique style. After many appropriate songs and yells, and expressions of gratitude to their "big sisters", they bade each other good night.

CHEMISTRY CLUB HEARS DR. NEWELL

A partial realization of the pleasures and benefits to be derived from the Meredith College Chemistry Club was brought about on Friday afternoon when its first program was carried out.

After the meeting was called to order and the minutes read, the president introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Nowell of Wake Forest College. Then followed his lecture on Corn and Corn Products, which was delivered in such a manner as to set forth the beauty of the study of chemistry, as well as the necessity and economic advantages of such a course. It was with deep interest and keen enthusiasm that the members of the club heard him.

Another item of interest was the reading of Dr. Eugene C. Bingham's Adoption by the Colleges of the Metric Unit System, by Miss Barre Pritchett.

When the program was completed the professors of Chemistry, Dr. Winston and Miss Baker, served refreshments which consisted of cake and ice cream in the form of turkeys and pumpkins charmingly served from evaporating dishes, while spatulae took the place of spoons, after which the club adjourned to meet again in December.

DR. MAHON LECTURES AT Y. W. C. A. SERVICES ON SUNDAY EVENING

We were delighted to have with us on last Sunday evening at Y. W. C. A. Dr. Brewer, Dr. Maddry and Dr. Mahan. After the opening song and a prayer by Dr. Brewer, Dr. Maddry introduced Dr. Mahan, who is connected with the new Baptist Training School in New Orleans. He told us some very interesting facts about this school. It occupies the old site of Sophie-Newcome College, which includes sixteen well-equipped buildings. There are at present one hundred and eighty students, eleven instructors and two tutors in the school. Courses are offered in Bible, language, missionary, music, book-keeping, stenography, etc., Bible being required in all courses.

One thing that distinguishes this school from the seminaries in Louisville and Fort Worth is the fact that a boy or girl does not have to be a college graduate in order to enter the courses given there. It offers opportunity to boys and girls who wish to do mission work, and who do not have a college education, to fit themselves for service. A distinctive feature of the school is that it gives a chance for practical application, right in the city, for the things which are studied in the class room.

After Dr. Mahan's talk Dr. Maddry made a few remarks about the need of trained leaders for young people's work in the churches today, and impressed upon us the fact that the foreign field is not the only field open for service.

STUDY OF DISARMAMENT

On Wednesday, November 15, the International Relations Club, after completing the usual order of business, resumed its study of the Disarmament question. Papers were given as follows: England and the Conference—Hettie Huggins; Disarmament from Viewpoint of the Lesser Powers—Beulah Rowland; Attitude of the United States—Alice Lowe.

In the last paper the responsibility which rests on Americans was especially stressed, and also the greatest problem given as the underlying feeling between the United States and Japan. The difficulty in settling the Far East question was also brought out, both the economical and moral side of it.

Informal discussion of the Disarmament and Current Topics, in general, then followed.
