"What's the matter?"
"I wrote an article on fresh milk and the editor condensed it."

"Bobby," said the teacher sternly, "do you know that you have broken the eighth commandment by stealing James' apples?"

"Well," explained Bobby, "I might just as well break the eighth and have the apple as to break the tenth and only covet it."

TEACHER: "Do you ever allow a man to kiss you when you're out motoring with him?"

SAME HOURS: "Never. If a man can drive safely while kissing me, he's not giving the kiss the attention it deserves."

HE—"You are the sunshine of my life! You alone reign in my heart. Without you my life is but a dreamy cloud."

SHE—"Is this a proposal or a weather report?"

Mrs. A.—"Mrs. B, I hear your little Johnny is taking Algebra and French."

Mrs. B.—"Yes, Johnny fell the lady good morning in Algebra."

G. SAUNDERS: "What is flirtation?"
THELMA WARD—"Attention without intention."

BRUCE CATES—"Does skating require any particular application?"

JULIA PRINCE—"No; arnica or horse-liniment—one's as good as another."

GREAT HEAD

TH—"Yes, I suppose I can claim to be a financial success, and just think, I started business with a shoe string."

SUE—"Money! It's genius! A man who could get anybody to buy one shoe string is a real business success."

DEPRESSION MAN—"How do you feel about your job?"

ROX—"With a tear of her head—"I don't like it."

Mrs. A.—"What's the matter with you?"

Mrs. B.—"I'm just thinking about my hair."

Mrs. C.—"What's the matter with you?"

Mrs. D.—"I'm just thinking about my hair."

TH—"I'm just thinking about my hair."

Mrs. A.—"What's the matter with you?"

Mrs. B.—"I'm just thinking about my hair."

Mrs. C.—"What's the matter with you?"

Mrs. D.—"I'm just thinking about my hair."

Two little boys who had been naughty and had been sent to school with their mother, were sitting in the school yard. One of them began to watch the other unhappily. "Why don't you write Tommy?" asked the teacher. "Tommy hasn't been to school," "Tisn't fair!" he said. "The man, Lee and mine is Robinsonsney."

A little girl was spending her first night away from home. As the darkness gathered, she began to cry. The hostess asked, "Are you homesick?" "No," was the reply, "I'm here sick."

After giving the new stable boy directions for treating a sick horse, the master returned in a little while to see if all had gone well. He found the stable boy choking and spluttering, his face various hues of red, blue and green.

"What's wrong?" said the boss.

"Well, you said put a tube in his mouth and blow the powder down."

"Yes."

"Well, he blew first."

"Yes," said the reformed cannibal chief. "I used to eat every missionary that came out here."

"That was before you got religion, eh?" queried the new missionary.

"No, before I got indigestion."

GENTLEMAN: "I have been greatly benefited by spending the evening with you. Your interest appeals to me. Are you a literary woman?"

LADY: "Oh, my no; I am a teacher in an infant school."

DR. FREEMAN: "And do you know your Bible, Miss Leary?"

RUTH: "O yes; I know everything that's in it. Sister's fellow's picture is in it, an' mother's recipe for face cream, and a lock of my hair when I was a baby, and the ticket for Father's watch."

MARGARET OVERTON: "I believe in post mortems. It is awful not to know what you have died of."

H. Thompson on seeing Maude for the first time asked, "Are you a town girl?"

M. Bordeaux—"No I'm a country girl."

K. Holland: "Oh, Winnie, did I tell you about falling so hard in church today?"

W. Rickett: "Law, Honey, you didn't fall down right in church, did you?"

Freshman in Myatt Cottage: "Do we have jitneys to take us over to the 'Y' Store?"

M. West: "I had my picture taken today with a human background."

E. Hayward: "How did you do that?"

M. West: "I stood in front of M. Allen and had it taken that way."

opportunity for rendering service to God and man.

The hymn "Time is Life" was sung by Miss Klutz. Benjamin Franklin said that time is money, but a good deal of "it is life." Despite this fact many who cling desperately to the things of this world, and the things that only a day separated, are neglecting the life of God and man.

The sermon on "Time is Life" was given by Rev. Dr. H. H. H. in a very interesting and helpful way.

SKATING TAKING THE DAY WITH MEREDITH GIRLS

A PAIR OF SKATES AND A GOOD BILL THE LATEST CRAZE FOR GIRLS

In this day of sensations, we have discovered a new one. Some of the girls seem to have taken on to the skating "craze." As all the children of the neighborhood have brought out their "rollers" as spring approaches, the girls decided to adopt the same plan and straightway got new skates or old ones and tried their ability as skaters. Those who could proceeded nicely, with but few exceptions and those who were not so fortunate as to be able to master the dangerous art, did their best to make earnest attempts. Much fun is derived by on-lookers from the queer antics of those who are as yet not very efficient in keeping their balance on the tricky wheels.

However, this sport is a good one and very invigorating to those who enjoy it and are willing to pay for it with a few days of limping and aching. Although this is an extremely dangerous sport, it is perfectly simple when once it is mastered.

the soul shot through with life that shines in the face of Him who sits in the place of the Refiner."

As president of the Board of Trustees, Mr. W. N. Jones gave the annual report. The college at present has an endowment of about one million dollars and is rapidly being transferred into the new Meredith which will be one of the best equipped colleges of the South. Mr. Jones said that although the financial conditions had been discouraging at times, it was good to know that all of the support of Meredith came from people who loved the institution and who gave their gifts from the heart.

Under the direction of Dr. Brown, the choir furnished special music; Bonwells "Hark! Hark! My Soul," and Mendelssohn's "I Waited for the Lord."

The singing of the Alma Mater was a fitting conclusion to the morning exercises for as always, it rekindled the spirit of love in the hearts of the daughters of Meredith for their father-mother.

WEDDING OF INTEREST TO MEREDITH STUDENTS

was educated at the University of North Carolina.

Immediately after the ceremony, came the reception, after which the bride and bridegroom motored to Wilson, where they left by train for a northern trip. Upon their return they will begin housekeeping in their beautiful new bungalow on Herman street in Goldsboro.

The out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were:

Mr. Cary Maxwell, of Trinity College; Misses Annie Grady and Marie Fleming, of Meredith College; Mr. Joe Robert, of State College; Miss Junie Whitfield, of Kingston; Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Grady, of Kenly; Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Grady and daughters of Kenly; Mrs. F. C. Mann and F. C. Jr., of Potosi; Mrs. R. H. McMillan and children of McDonald; Mrs. Polk, of Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Lagrange.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT RECEPTION ON FOUNDERS DAY

MEREDITH GIRLS AND FRIENDS JOIN IN HOLIDAY RECEPTION

Thursday evening, February 7th, from 8 until 10:30, Meredith College was the scene of a gay reception given by the students. This reception has become a regular feature of Founder's Day—the climax toward which we all look longingly throughout the year. Never before though, has the Students' Reception been a happier occasion.

The reception was given in the halls, parlors, chapel and class rooms of Main Building. The receiving line with our Dean of Women, Miss Alice Zabriskie, and our Student Government President, Miss Martha Powell, welcomed the guests in the front hall, and then there were many charming places to try. The chapel drew many, by the lively music being played there by a good orchestra. Others went on to the class rooms which had been tastefully decorated in the various colors—the University, State, Trinity and Wake Forest, found the colors of their choice, and found quiet places for talking. Many more sociably inclined wandered around everywhere.

About ten o'clock, ice cream and cake were served. By ten-thirty the guests had departed, and the reception was over again for this year, but it "lingers in our memories yet."
