SOPHS WIN CUP!

Class of '42 Stunt Cup Winners; Frosh Given Second Place

For the first time in almost a decade a sophomore class holds the cup presented by the Athletic Association for the best original stunt.

The winners gave a medieval romance, entitled "A Nightmare," written in blank verse. The actors spoke the stage directions and mingled it with their regular lines. The scene was laid in a castle courtyard and the cast of characters were as follows:

Lady Meredith...Cora Lee Burnett
Lady Peace.....Harriet Noel
Sir State...Mary Elizabeth Holloway
The Blue Duke

Elizabeth Rosenbloom
Prince Carol...Doris Jane Bordeaux
Lord Wake.....Virginia Lancaster
Lord Forest.....Mary Sue Jackson
Cousin David.....Margaret Noel

Katherine Kerr, Vivien Jeffries,
Nancy Nuckols, and Nancy Stroup.
Programs for the sophomore stunt were included on a single page in the shape of a scroll.

The freshman class was awarded second place for the originality of their stunt, "The Big Stake."

The freshman cast included:
Ione Knight.....Rufus Roundsteak
Nan Davis.....Willie Butcher

Man of Court.....Nancy Brewer
Programs were in the shape of a harp of gold.

"Plane Living" was the title of the junior class stunt this year. The scene was laid in Alaska, and the plot showed the simple philosophy of life of the Eskimos and its effect on several persons marooned with these simple folk.

The cast included:
Jim Carroll.....Betty Fleischmann
Mortimer Fitzgerald
Elizabeth Hostetler
Daniel Clark.....Dorothy Perry

Seniors Win Step-Singing; Song By Virginia Council

The senior class, for the second consecutive year, won recognition for the singing of their class song. A trio composed of Carolyn Critcher, Sarah Falls and Frances Dixon sang the song on a novelty method of presentation.

Virginia Council, senior from Raleigh, received the five-dollar award for composing the best class song. It was the second year that she has won this prize.

The junior class song was written by Dorothy Pender.

The sophomore song was written by a committee composed of Marie Chesson, Rebecca Hamilton, Virginia Greene, Dorothy Maness and Virginia McGonzor.

The freshman class song was composed by Ethel Stevens and Clarice Burns.

Sam.....Mary Gwin Oliver
Bob Leland.....Agnes Graham
Henry Mason.....Rachel Lewis
Martha Mason.....Alice Falls
Freida Mason.....Ada Wall

Eskimos: Mary Lib Foster, Helen Powers, Agnes Freeman, Leette Smoak, Loleta Kenan.

Programs were in the shape of airplanes.

Judges for the stunts were: Miss Pat Abernethy, sophomore class judge; Professor C. A. P. Moore, of the English department of St. Mary's, freshman class judge; Miss Estelle Burt, of Campbell College, senior class judge; Dr. A. M. Fountain, professor of English at State college, judge for junior class; Professor Frederic Koch, from the University of North Carolina, Athletic Association judge.

Scotch Lassies Win Palio For Seniors; Sophs Place Second

The Famous Cup

The cup held by the Class of '40 during the past year and now in the possession of their "Little Sisters," the Class of '42.

The junior class won reserved seats for stunt night by having the largest number present at the Palio.

They had 108 students present out of a possible 118. The winners were determined on a percentage basis. Last year the Class of '39, Big Sisters to the present juniors, won the privilege of seeing the stunts from the first rows of the two middle sections of the auditorium.

The cup for the annual Stunt Day Palio was awarded this year to the "Scotch Lassies" of the senior class.

The winners wore pleated plaid skirts and caps in Scotch fashion. The costumes were donned as a salute to Dr. Carlyle Campbell, "our Scottish president."

Second place in the Palio parade went to the sophomores for their costumes portraying the idea of the name of their class, which means "The Wise Fools."

The juniors wore head pieces of red horns and black gloves, following the idea of the odd traditions.

The freshman class portrayed a circus parade and all sorts of freaks and clowns were seen.

Leading the Palio parade was the newly organized Meredith band. The members of the band wore white skirts and maroon sweaters and were led by high-stepping Anabelle Cabiellero as drum major.

Judges for the Palio were Professor B. Y. Tyner, Dr. Helen Price and Mrs. Leroy Allen.

Other Palio events were: The horse race, won by the freshman class horse, "Boney Parts," ridden by Jessie Jones, and the bicycle relay race, won by the sophomore class.

The alumni-student sport events taking place after the Palio were won by the alumnae under the direction of Miss Alta Critcher.
