

Chapel Speakers Discuss Vocations

Recent chapel programs have featured three people representing and informing the student body about their respective vocations. The first of these speakers was Dr. L. N. Winston, State Commissioner of Public Welfare, who spoke on different types of social work. Miss Frances Query, Consultant on Week Day Religious Education in the Public Schools for the North Carolina Council for Churches, made known the various fields open in church work. She emphasized the word "vocation" as applying to any type of life work and reminded the audience that any "job" demands a life centered in "One higher than self." Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, director of the Division of Instruction Services in the State Department of Education, spoke on the vocation of teaching. He stressed the urgent need for better prepared teachers in the public schools of North Carolina.

Other recent chapel speakers have been Dr. J. W. Norton, Health Officer of the State Board of Health, who spoke on the symptoms, prevention, and treatment of cancer, and Mrs. Foy J. Farmer who visited the campus on Monday, May 2.

Auditorium Opening To Be in September

That wonderful day that everyone has been waiting for will finally arrive next September, and the opening will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of Meredith. By now everyone should know what I am talking about. Yes, our beautiful new auditorium, and I am sure you would enjoy knowing a little about it. The big auditorium upstairs will seat approximately 1,000 people, and the one downstairs, about 200 people. The new auditorium, just as the old one, will contain the music department which will have all of its practice rooms downstairs.

I know the music students are very thrilled over their "future hangout," and I am sure that the new building will also please the students in Jones Dorm. There is no doubt that the auditorium will be our pride and joy for many years to come.

Mrs. Marsh Attends Registrars Meeting

Mrs. Vera Tart Marsh, registrar of the college, officially represented Meredith at the thirty-fifth annual convention of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars, which was held in Columbus, Ohio, April 25-28. Mrs. Marsh, who is past president of the North Carolina Association of Collegiate Registrars, made a statistical report on a special project to the National Regional Committee. She also served on the hospitality committee and was a member of the panel discussion on Counseling. Mrs. Marsh says that the convention was complete with a full program of work and play. The group was entertained at tea given by the faculty club of Ohio State University. After a tour of the campus, the registrars were invited to the natatorium where they witnessed a diving and swimming demonstration by two Olympic champions. Other tours were arranged to Capital University, College of St. Mary of the Springs, Denison University, Ohio Wesleyan University, and Otterbein College. Mrs. Marsh was especially interested in visiting Denison University because Dr. Kenneth I. Brown, the president, is to deliver Meredith's baccalaureate address this year.

Dr. Johnson Entertains

Dr. Mary Lynch Johnson entertained her Chaucer and Browning classes at a delightful picnic given in the Hut on April 28. Special guests were the English faculty, Miss Marjorie Love of Peace College, and Mrs. J. S. Farmer, sister of Dr. Johnson.

Marjorie Trippeer's counsel group were also guest of Dr. Johnson at a picnic May 5 at the Chimney. Dr. Johnson is faculty adviser for the group. Miss Edith Pratt was a special guest.

No variations will be made without advance agreement between the instructor and Dean. Conflicts in the schedule should be reported in the office of the Dean. A fee of two dollars will be charged for individual examinations whenever authorized.

FRANKIE WARD HAS SENIOR EXHIBITION

One of Meredith's talented senior art students, Frankie Ward, will give her graduation art exhibition on May 12, at 8:00 p.m. Presented in the exhibit will be Frankie's works of romantic realistic paintings, clay sculptures, designs, and commercial drawings. She has specialized in commercial sketches.

While at Meredith, Frankie has studied art under Charles Rembert, Douglas Reynolds, and Mrs. Ream. This year, Frankie entered some of her recent paintings in the North Carolina State Art Gallery and in the Woman's Club at Goldsboro, North Carolina.

After graduation in June, Frankie plans to go into commercial art work or further her studies in graduate art school.
