

FOR GIRLS ONLY... The Truth Leaks Out

Wake County Alumnae Hold Annual Luncheon

If she's a Freshman:
 She thinks a college education leads to things social, cultural and academic.
 She tells her mother everything. She thinks things learned in college leave one intelligent.
 She says, "Oh, please stop that!" She wants to marry a football player.
 She reads "What Every Young Girl Should Know."
 She likes to smooch.
 She thinks midnight is late.
 She thinks all men are nice.
 Her motto: Mother knows best.

If she's a Sophomore:
 She thinks a college education leads to things social and cultural.
 She tells her roommate everything.
 She thinks things learned in college leave one fairly intelligent.
 She says, "Oh, please stop!"
 She wants to marry a movie star.
 She reads "How to Win Friends and Influence People."
 She likes to smooch.
 She thinks midnight is pretty late.

If she's a Junior:
 She thinks a college education leads to things social.
 She tells her diary everything. She thinks things learned in college leave one intelligent enough.
 She says, "Oh, Please!"
 She wants to marry a capitalist.
 She reads: "The Art of Love."
 She likes to smooch.
 She thinks midnight isn't so late. She thinks most men aren't nice.
 Her motto: Nothing ventured, nothing gained.

If she's a Senior:
 She thinks a college education leads to things.
 She doesn't tell anybody anything.
 She thinks things learned in college leave one.
 She says, "Oh!"
 She wants to marry a man.
 She reads: "Care and Feeding of Infants."
 She likes to smooch.
 She thinks midnight is midnight.
 She thinks no men are nice.
 Her motto: Boys will be boys.

The Wake County Chapter of Meredith alumnae held its annual luncheon during the meeting of the State Baptist Convention in Raleigh on last Wednesday, November 16. The luncheon was given at the Hayes-Barton Baptist Church.

Dr. Campbell, president of the college, was the featured speaker at the luncheon, and Dr. Edwin S. Preston was also introduced. Mrs. Robert Ponton, president of the alumnae chapter, presided. Furnishing special music under the direction of Miss Beatrice Donley, was a group of four music students from Meredith: Nancy Hall, Jean Olive, Jo Snow, and Jane Stroup. Bettie Compton was accompanist for the group.

NORTH CAROLINA STUDENT LEGISLATURE WILL MEET IN RALEIGH ON DECEMBER 1

On Thursday night, December 1, North Carolina college students will take over the capitol building and will conduct a mock "legislature" in its House and Senate chambers for the remaining two days of the week. The student legislature is conducted just as the regular North Carolina Assembly is carried out, sometimes with more accurate form and better debating than is heard by the actual Senators and Representatives. Meredith is one of the schools that is most active in the legislature, presenting bills and sending delegates who are chosen by the Student League of Women Voters and voted upon by the student body.

The State Student Legislature had its beginning in 1936 when members of the Pi Kappa Delta forensic fraternity at State College sponsored the first assembly. At that time the Legislature was little more than an oratorical society. Since then the body has grown, though not without difficulties, and sometimes was even striving for mere existence. Perhaps the most eventful measure was the admission of Negro delegates into the Assembly. This change came as a result of the Glenn Resolution to admit Negro delegates, which after much controversy was victorious. The Legislature in its present form includes most of the colleges of North Carolina sending proportionate representatives to the House of Representatives and an equal number, three from each school, of Senators.

Last year the Legislature was composed of 119 delegates and other alternates and observers and it is expected that a larger number will convene this year at the early December meeting. Meredith has always had members in the Interim Council of the Legislature which makes arrangements for the carrying out of the sessions. Girls who have held this position in the past are Fran Thompson who was secretary-treasurer and Elsie Corbett. At present Emily Pool is on the Interim Council which is making preparations for the forthcoming Legislature. In addition to being on the council Meredith girls have held offices in the House and Senate. Last year Elsie Corbett was Recording Clerk of the Senate and Emily Pool was Reading Clerk of the Senate.

This year's Legislature promises to be one of interest both from the standpoint of the Student Representation, and also because of the varied agenda of bills to be considered. There will be labor bills, segregation bills, social bills and election bills. The session opens Thursday night, December 1, with an address by Governor Scott and the election of the officers for the Interim Council and for the House and Senate. Observers are welcome in the balconies to view the Legislature of tomorrow in action. Meredith personnel might also remember the boost it will give your Senators and Representatives to see you at the capitol, interested in what they are trying to do in representing you.

B.S.U. CAMPUS NEWS

The annual State-Meredith B.S.U. party was held last Friday night, November 18, in the old auditorium. The committees from the Baptist Student Unions of both colleges in charge of the entertainment were headed by Miss Billie Ruth Currin and Faye Nichols, of Meredith; and Bob Lasater and Bert Bailey, of State.

Entertainment planned by these committees included get-acquainted games, group singing, and a grand march. Stunts were also planned and refreshments furnished for all those attending the party.

COLTON ENGLISH CLUB HAS LITERARY THEME

Although the Colton English Club has not been in the public notice very much yet, we have been functioning, nevertheless. Our general theme for the year is "The Relation of Literature to the Arts," which includes such topics as opera, folk ballads, choral reading, sculpture, and other such related topics. So far the programs have been well received by a large number of girls.

The December meeting is to be something of a high light of the year because at this time we will receive the sophomores who show special interest in English into the club. We receive new members from the sophomore class each year in this way. In honor of these sophomore members we are having a social hour after the meeting in December.

A.A. BOARD TO SELL CHRISTMAS CARDS

The Athletic Association Board is planning to sell college Christmas cards to the students this year, and these will be placed on sale in the near future.

The cards, which will be made in a folder type with attractive Meredith scenes on the cover, will be sold separately at ten cents, according to plans now being formulated by the A.A. Board. The Board hopes to present a very attractive card to Meredith students and expects good sales this year.

Plans are also underway for the sale of a printed book of all student addresses, shortly before the Christmas holidays. These addresses will be sold at a nominal price to be kept by students in permanent form and used in sending out Christmas cards and later use throughout the year.
