

Athletes Participate in Dormitory Tournaments

FINALS PLAYED IN FOUR SPORTS

The tournaments between the dormitories were played in badminton, ping pong, and tennis on the 21, 22, and 23 of May.

The archery tournament was shot the week before on May 16. Included in the archery tournament were Ann Draughon, Stringfield; Pat Smathers, Vann; Betsy Miles, day student, Neta Whitty, Jones; and Sally Massey, Faircloth.

Badminton play-offs began with (in the singles) the day students versus Stringfield dormitory, Vann versus Faircloth, and Jones with a bye. Representative players were Honora Parker, Adele Buening, Hope Hodges, and Faye Nichols. Doubles featured Barbara Eurton and Nancy Brown from Stringfield against representatives from Vann.

In the ping pong singles the schedule showed Stringfield versus Vann, Jones versus the day students and Faircloth with a bye. Girls playing were Sue Fitzgerald, Pat Eberhart, Faye Nichols, and Allen Hart, Kappy Stanfield and Sally Smith played for Vann against representatives from Stringfield in the doubles.

Tennis singles featured Jeanne Ramsey of Faircloth playing a representative of Stringfield. Jane Williamson and Ann Lovell won the tennis doubles for the school.

CURTAIN UP

(Continued from page three) lines after the stars! Everyone has agreed that Miss Mayes did a great job of casting. And personally, I think that our set was much more interesting.

Alpha Psi Omega had its initiation service this week, taking seven new members into the fraternity. To be eligible for membership, one must acquire 50 Alpha Psi points by participating in theatre work on the campus. These points are given, not only for acting, but for any form of work done in construction or for backstage work. Alpha Psi will elect the 1951-52 officers at a meeting to be held in the near future.

In an attempt to show what Little Theatre and Alpha Psi have done this year, Miss Mayes the sponsor, had cuts of pictures taken from the two plays of the year made and has sent them to the "Playbill," the national Alpha Psi magazine.

There seems to be some talent on our campus that has been kept under cover until recently. The Spanish play and Psi Chi play really revealed some good theatre material. I believe that the Psi Chi play achieved its purpose in showing some of the mental problems of young women. Everyone seemed to enjoy the play and at the same time "got the point." If any of you would like to go on with the work you have begun in these plays, the Little Theatre welcomes you with open arms—literally and figuratively.

Next year holds golden promises for the Little Theatre. We sincerely hope that through the work and co-operation of members of the student body, we will be able to give the campus bigger and better plays. Help us to help you in Little Theatre!

A.A. STAGES PICNIC AT CRABTREE PARK

The members of the old and new Athletic Association boards piled into a truck on Monday, May 7, at 5:30 p.m. and breezed out to Crabtree for a picnic. It was the last regular meeting of the year for the old members, who considered it a good chance to entertain the new group who will take their places in the A.A.

Hope Hodges, B. J. Shuler, Marilyn Mills, and Rosalyn Varn went early in the afternoon to prepare the way for the others coming later in the truck. Betty Yates and Bess Francis brought the cokes, Joyce Covington, Ann Lovell, and Sally Massey assisted in planning the menu.

The students furnished their own entertainment, for the ice that had been used around the cokes served to send many a chill running down the spines of those girls who were caught looking in an opposite direction from their friends.

B.S.U. HOLDS ANNUAL

Anne Creech gave the highlights of Caswell and showed their last year's annual. Jean Dula gave some insights on Fruitland and suggested that any student who wants to work, have a vacation, and enjoy a wonderful time, should go to Fruitland for the summer.
