

Hark, the Angels Sing

Leah Scarborough, Music Editor

There's music in the air! That was true literally when Meredith played host on March 12 and 13 to about 2,500 high school students competing in the District Music Festival held here annually. We enjoyed having them and listening to their performances.

While elections were the center of interest all over the Meredith campus recently, our musical organizations were similarly engaged. New officers for the coming year have been chosen in Sigma Alpha Iota Fraternity. They include Hortense Wiggs, president; Shirley Taylor, vice-president; Jettie Rea Bradshaw, secretary; Leah Scarborough, treasurer; Katie Lee Currin, program chairman; Phoebe Barnhardt, sergeant-at-arms; Mary Lois Cadle, chaplain; Margaret Ann English, store manager; and Mary Dare Moore, editor. Sigma Alpha Iota is also very happy to welcome Mrs. Stuart Pratt as a patroness member. We feel that she will be a vital part of our organization and that her efforts in combination with those of our other patronesses will insure continued fraternity progress.

CAMPAIGN WORKER APPEALS

1:00, at Parker's Barbecue Lodge. Greenville Area—March 25, 12:00, luncheon.

Richmond, Virginia—April 1, evening meeting.

Washington, D. C. — April 2, 12:00, luncheon at the YWCA.

Wilmington Area — April 3, 12:30, luncheon at the Friendly Cafeteria.

Other meetings are now being arranged.

You notice that among the meetings are two out-of-state ones. We are hoping for a meeting of the Brotherly Love Chapter in Philadelphia, but we have not yet conferred with our alumnae there. The other out-of-state alumnae who are too widely scattered to belong to chapters are just as important to the success of our campaign as these nearer home; they will not be overlooked. Though it grieves us to say that we cannot make personal calls on these girls, we shall be writing them and getting letters in return. One faithful out-of-stater, without even waiting for the alumnae campaign to get under way, sent in January a check for $75. Distance does not lessen our Meredith Spirit.

Patroness members include Mrs. Harry E. Cooper, Mrs. Carlyle Campbell, Dr. Lillian Parker Wallace, Miss Forrestine Whitaker, Miss Beatrice Donley, and Miss Suzanne Axworthy, advisor.

Chorus members are hard at work now in preparation for the proposed spring tour, the spring concert, and more immediately the performance at the Chapel Hill Baptist Church on April 8 as a part of the centennial exercises there. The numbers performed at Chapel Hill will be "By the Waters of Babylon" by Paul Beckhelm and "Great Is the Lord" by Handel.

A group of forty voices selected from the college chorus will present a program of sacred music at First Baptist Church of Smithfield Sunday evening, March 28. The program consists of "With a Voice of Singing," "Bless the Lord, O My Soul," "Brother James' Air," "God Who Made the Earth," "Heavenly Light," "By the Waters of Babylon," "God So Loved the World," "Blessing," "O Lord Most Holy," and "Great Is the Lord."

KAPPA NU SIGMA INSTALLS JUNIOR MEMBERS, HONORS TWO SOPHOMORES

On March 4, Betty Ball, Leah Scarborough, and Carolyn Wood, the three students having the highest scholastic standing in the Junior Class, were installed as members of the Kappa Nu Sigma Honor Society. Margaret Layne and Anne Parr, sophomores with the highest scholastic records, were honored on the same occasion.

Public announcement of these new members was made at the annual Kappa Nu Sigma lecture in the auditorium. Dr. Sturgis E. Leavitt of the department of modern languages of the University of North Carolina was the guest lecturer. Preceding the lecture, Dr. and Mrs. Leavitt, and the new members were honored at a banquet at the Woman's Club, attended by student, faculty, and alumnae members of Kappa Nu Sigma. Following the lecture, members of the faculty, the Senior Class, and Kappa Nu Sigma alumnae were entertained at a reception in the Blue Parlor.

Psi Chi Club Gives Comedy March 30

The Psi Chi Club will present a comedy, "Suppressed Desires," in assembly, Tuesday, March 30, under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn da Parma. There are three characters: Henrietta, a young married woman who is an avid believer in the infallibility of psychoanalysis, played by Doris James; Stephen, her husband, who is just as unimpressed with psychoanalysis as his wife is impressed with it, played by Jackie Norris; and Mabel, Henrietta's unsuspecting and easily upset sister, played by Lorette Oglesby. Betty Hunter is the student chairman, with Nancy Hall, Millie Holland, Betty Smith, Bess Peeler, Joyce Causey, and Anne Horn heading the committees.

delivery department in the basement. The girls were guests of the store for lunch, during which a spring fashion show was presented. After lunch the class talked with the head of the advertising department, and with several of the buyers for ladies' sportswear. After the tour, everyone had an hour or so for individual shopping.

Supper at Howard Johnson's in Petersburg ended the busy day.

Miss Hill of the business department accompanied the students on the trip.

Club Notes

The annual state conference of the North Carolina International Relations Clubs will meet at Bennett College in Greensboro on April 24, with Barbe White of Meredith presiding. Other state officers include Jim McJunkin of Western Carolina College, vice-president, and Dorothy Hampton of Meredith, secretary. The theme of the conference will be "The Ideological Conflict in the World Today." All members of the Meredith College I.R.C. are urged to make plans to attend the conference.

Tomorrow's Business Women met March 11. Miss Hill gave an account of the trip to Richmond which the retailing class made on February 23. The club will have a picnic in May to which members of the Wake Forest business fraternity will be invited. A nominating committee was appointed by Ann Ipock, the president. New officers will be elected at the next meeting.

Miss Phyllis Weyer spoke to the German Club, which met Wednesday, March 10. Miss Weyer traced the evolution of music from the era before Christ to the time of German musical supremacy in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries.

Prior to the meeting the club practiced speaking German while eating supper together in the dining hall.

Betty Lane Wins A.A. Poster Contest

Betty Lane was the winner of the A. A. contest for the best poster advertising the Folk Dance Concert to be held Saturday night. Her poster showed a red dancer on top of the world, signifying "round the world dancers." All of the posters are displayed in town; Betty's is at Ballentine's Restaurant. Miss Peterson and members of the Folk Dance Club judged the posters. Betty was presented a $5 prize in assembly on Tuesday.

WE CAN NEVER BE DONE

inevitable, and there was much talk of selling the buildings to meet the payments due. But the institution which was, in M. L. Kesler's words, "stayed and upheld by the affections of a great people" survived; and through the subsequent years its share in the Co-operative Program has assured its financial security.

Hence this campaign, like that which took place in 1944, is not to make possible the existence or continued existence of the College, but to increase its opportunities for usefulness, so that it may even more effectively "provide not only thorough instruction but also culture made perfect through the religion of Jesus Christ."
