

Behind the Doors of the S. G. Council

BY NANCY BROWN

Well, the council must have spring fever along with everybody else, because there isn't very much news for you this time. Becky Caloway and Nancy Doherty reported to you about their trip to the Student Government Convention at Florida State University in Tallahassee, Florida. According to all reports they must have had a wonderful time, and I know they got some ideas that will be valuable to them next year.

The Council has spent some time trying to clarify the statement in the handbook about married students living on campus. You know that to live on campus as a married student you must have Miss Fleming's permission, and you must have your correct name on all your records. If these requirements aren't met, it is falsification of your records and you are living on the campus under false pretenses. This is a very serious matter, and we wanted to be sure that it was clearly stated in the handbook so that no one would misunderstand it, especially since spring is bringing its traditional romance to our campus.

If you were in chapel Tuesday morning, you saw the installation of the new council. They will begin to attend meetings immediately and the new officers will assume their duties on Monday, May 3. However, the old council will still retain the voting power while the new council looks on in order to learn.

Susilee Reynolds Presents Art Exhibit

Susilee Jane Reynolds, five-and-one-half-year-old daughter of Mr. Douglas Reynolds, head of the Meredith College art department, gave an art exhibit that opened on April 6. Her pictures included work done both in the realistic and abstract. It was given as an example of art done by a pre-school child. It was "not selected for artistic merit, but to demonstrate what expression is like" in a child of that age.

This is sort of a training period for your new council so that they won't go into their duties next fall unprepared, and we think it helps a great deal.

Last time, I told you about our celebration of getting into our new home. Well, this time we aren't celebrating anything in particular (except maybe the warm weather), but the council has decided to go to the S & W to eat one night. We are having as our guests Dr. and Mrs. Campbell and our advisory committee, Miss Fleming, Dr. and Mrs. Crook, and Mr. and Mrs. Colson. We are looking forward to a delightful time and some good food, and we wish that all of you could be with us.

Guess this is all for this time. I'll be back 'long about May Day with some more S. G. news.

DR. PRIESTLEY ADDRESSES

(Continued from page one)

"Agrarian Problem in Mexico," "The Proposed Federation of the British West Indies," "The Role of Agriculture in the Argentine," and "Some Problems and Achievements of Pan-Americanism." He holds that one should always take an unknown subject for such a piece of work thus broadening one's field of knowledge.

Living in a suitcase with no family is one of the sacrifices Dr. Priestley has made for his work. His parents have lived in a small sea-coast town in England since their former home was destroyed during the war. Here Dr. Priestley spends as much time as he can take from his work each year, three months if he is very lucky.

As historian, author, lecturer and world traveler, Dr. Priestley has contributed much to international relations. He has been associated with UNESCO and various other similar organizations. He is especially interested in the fight against illiteracy, disease, hunger, and poverty in the underdeveloped areas of the world and in the problems of land reform.

Hark, the Angels Sing

Leah Scarborough, Music Editor

Spring is here—and with it comes the graduation recitals of the senior music majors. Recent recitalists were Betty Ann Miller, organist; Marjorie Anne Barnes, pianist; and Jean Batten, organist. Other seniors who will present recitals in the near future include Betty Lou Olive, organ; Betty Joyce Sanderlin, piano; Sara Blalock, voice; Mary Bryan Reid, voice; and Carolyn Hall, voice. A joint recital will be presented by Rose Rummage, voice; Mary Jane Warrick, voice; and Jackie Ammons, piano.

In the spring, it is said that our minds turn to thoughts of poetry and all the beauty unfolding about us. Since music is so completely an expression of this beauty and loveliness, it is natural that we should find many thoughts expressed of music and its qualities. Lord Byron has said:

There's music in the sighing of a reed;
There's music in the gushing of a rill;
There's music in all things, if men had ears;
Their earth is but an echo of the spheres.

But music is not in nature alone. It is within us. Shakespeare has said:

The man that hath no music in himself,
Nor is not mov'd with concord of sweet sounds,
Is fit for treasons, stratagems, and spoils;
The motions of his spirit are dull as night,
And his affections dark as Erebus;
Let no such man be trusted.

What powers lie in music. Shakespeare has expressed it thus:
When gripping grief the heart doth wound,

And doleful dumps the mind oppress,
Then music with her silver sound
With speedy help doth lend redress.

Sidney Lanier feels: "Music is love in search of a word!" And Edward Elgar has said: "My idea is that there is music in the air, music all around us; the world is full of it, and you simply take as much as you require." With all this beauty about us, we all must feel as this poet did. It is the expression of spring:

All nature's music is lovely,
Music so wond'rous rare;
Its melody, rhythm, harmony,
Gloriously fill the air.

ALUMNAE SEMINAR

(Continued from page one)

Josey and Anne Horn were presented.

Luncheon was served in the college dining hall at 12:30. At 1:30 Dr. Carlyle Campbell gave the "President's Perspective" and then presented Mrs. LeRoy Allen, director of the alumnae division of the expansion program, who told of the progress being made in the program.

The concluding session at 2:00 brought Dr. Helen Price, former professor of ancient languages at Meredith College, before the group

Club Notes

On March 29 a Young Democrat's Club was organized on campus. A group of students together with Ed Davenport of Nashville, Y.W.C. College, as organizer, Mr. Charles Gold, State Commissioner of Insurance, and Miss Mary McGee, met in the hut. Dr. Lemmon is sponsor of the new club and officers are: president, Edith Johnson; first vice-president, Earlene Martin; second vice-president, Pat Bowen; secretary, Mary Frances Colston; treasurer, Gertrude Bisette; membership chairman, Polly Richardson.

Tomorrow's Business Women met April 8 and elected officers for the coming year. The new officers are: president, Frances Carr, vice-president, Kathleen Clemmons; secretary, Elizabeth Jones; treasurer, Ophelia McLean; reporter, Polly Richardson; program chairman, Annette Caudle.

in a lecture on "Permanent Values of Language Study."

A display of foreign dolls was presented in the alumnae house through the courtesy of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Huckabee, instructor in modern languages, and Miss Dolly Sue Vernon, prospective Meredith student. Souvenir recipe books of foreign foods were given to all returning alumnae.

The modern language department also displayed text books and equipment in Room 27, Arts Building.

BOSSE JEWELERS

333 Fayetteville Street

Raleigh, North Carolina

RAINBOW FLORIST

PHONE 7646

VILLAGE THEATRE

CAMERON VILLAGE

NOW PLAYING
SHELLEY WINTERS
KEENAN DEWEY
WYNN : MARTIN

— in —

"TENNESSEE CHAMP"

In Ansco Color
Print by Technicolor

THE BEST LOVED PICTURE OF ALL TIME

Winner of 9
Academy Awards

"THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES"

MYRNA LOY
FREDRIC MARCH
DANA ANDREWS
TERESSA WRIGHT
Starts SUNDAY

The New STATE
Raleigh's Finest

See MIRIAM'S

for Your

GRADUATION DRESSES

WELCOME

TO

ROY'S

Durham Highway

Hillsboro Road

Hudson-Belk Invites

You to Visit Our

New

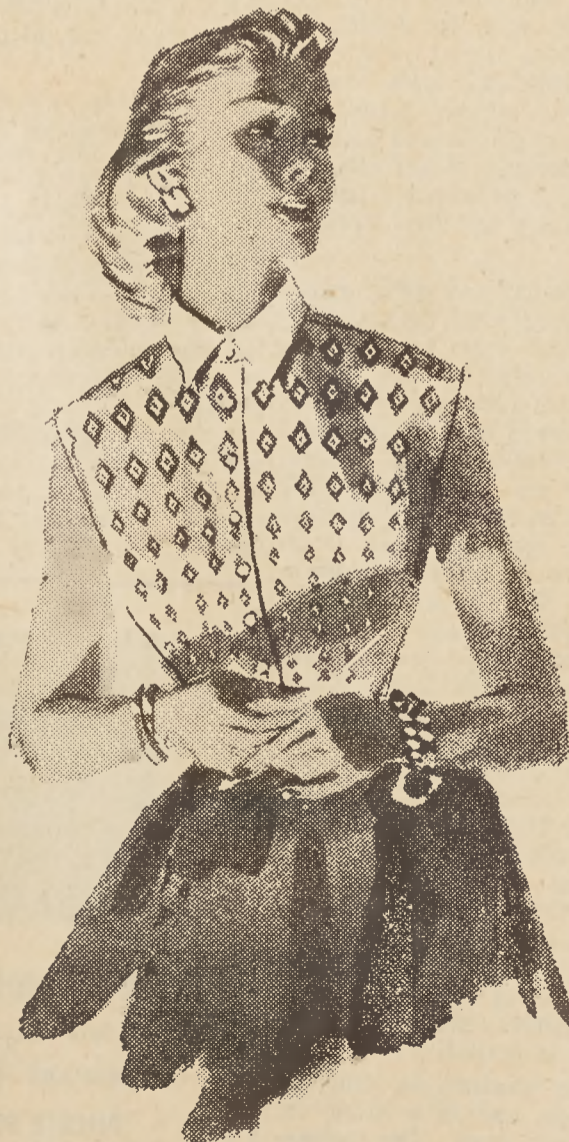

Judy Bond

BLOUSE BAR

Conveniently Located on Our Street Floor

- Novelty Blouses
- Short Sleeves
- Long Sleeves
- Cap Sleeves

Priced from $3.95 to $5.95

Hudson-Belk