

Losing season ends with great victory

by Darla Stephenson

After nine consecutive losses, the Meredith basketball team ended its home season in a 67-30 romp over a visiting St. Mary's team. The visitors never had a chance while every Angel both played and scored.

Meredith scoring was led by center Clare Lynn Brock with 24 points, followed by teammate Alisa Robertson with 15.

The win bolstered the Angels' defeated spirits, breaking a 9-game losing streak, six of which were lost in the final 30 seconds of the game.

Recent losses included a 51-58 defeat by Bennett College on February 4. Though the Angels were at a great height disadvantage, they played well. Their offensive attack was led by junior Alisa Robertson who finished with 17 points, followed by a dazzling performance by Dabney Chakales, who shot 70 percent for 15 points.

On February 26, Davidson Community College slid by Meredith with a 47-50 victory. When the Angels missed a lay-up with 10 seconds on the clocks their hopes were dashed. Foul trouble as well contributed to the loss as forward Robertson and Chakales fouled out.

Overtime play with St. Andrews resulted in a deceptive 59-71 loss for the Angels. After losing a 7 point lead in regulation time as well as juniors Robertson and Sharon Sawyer fouling out, the momentum of the game changed, with St. Andrews making a comeback. A 25-foot St. Andrews' jump shot tied the game, sending it in overtime.

With one minute gone in overtime, three of Meredith's starters had fouled out, and the other two were taxed with four fouls each. At this point, St. Andrews took control of the game, running up a 12 point lead.

Clare Lynn Brock was high scorer with 30 points (60 percent from the floor) and Sharon Sawyer finished 5-6, shooting 83 percent.

Plagued by sickness and injury, Meredith fell to UNC-G 50-68 when 6 players basically played for the Angels. N.C. Wesleyan down Meredith N.C. Wesleyan devastated an injured Angel squad 49-78. Meredith's 32 turnovers speak for themselves.

Syncs crawl past Execs

by Stephanie Georgallis

In a close victory, the Super Syncs defeated the Execs in MRA's swimming intramurals that were held on February 18 in Weatherspoon Gym. The participants, clad in a variety of swim suits and even T-shirts and gym shorts, eagerly awaited the start of the competition. The pool area was filled with cries of encouragement as Lynn Moss blew the starting whistle.

The four teams that participated included the Super Syncs (the Aqua Angels), the Super A's, the Execs, and the Saps. There were six events. The events consisted of the Freestyle, the Butterfly, the Medley Relay, the Backstroke, the Breast Stroke, and the Freestyle Relay. After the points were tabulated, the Super Syncs came in first with 16 points, the Execs were close at their heels with 19 points. The Super A's had 22, while the Saps had 33 points. All the competition was in good fun, and all the participants definitely got their day's exercise. When the Super Sync's were asked about their victory, they exclaimed, "We're ready for the next competitors, and don't forget our Aqua Angel show coming soon." The Saps, on an unbroken losing streak, were good sports despite their resounding loss. But that is the spirit of intramurals, friendly competition and good, clean fun.
