dom given by God and not to follow all the "glorious frauds" that operate in our world. He further stated that the religious commitment is often seen as tying us up but people need to see that it frees us. We aren't filled with the hate and ego but we can love, care and do for other people without all the phony pretenses.

The Staley Lecture circuit was founded in 1969 to "further the evangelical witness of the Christian Church, and with a particular concern for college students," according to its statement of purpose. Its focus is the small, private college that might not have the opportunity to hear such speakers otherwise.

According to Sam Carothers, campus minister and a member of the Staley planning committee, a trust fund was

Senate subcommittee investigates cancelled classes due to late tuition payments

On Tuesday, March 18, the Senate subcommittee that has been working on revising the process by which the Registrar's office cancels classes if tuition payments are not received on time reported to the Senate.

Ann Loving, chair of the committee, talked to Charles Taylor, vice president for business and finance, to express student concerns about classes being cancelled. Taylor discussed moving the due date for tuition earlier and said that in the future there will be a week or two period between the due date and when classes are cancelled.

To make the tuition bill look more important, Taylor says there will be a cover letter included with it. By making the bill look more important, whoever pays the tuition will not set the bill aside and forget about it, Taylor said.

The Senate requested that past-due notices be sent before classes are cancelled, and Taylor agreed to consider the possibility.

Taylor also said that more students' classes were cancelled this semester because the rule was being enforced.

The Senate also discussed a system to keep the same mail boxes for all years a student attends Meredith, male visitation, and no smoking halls.

set up by Dr. Thomas Staley of Rye, New York. Funds are sent to the individual colleges to invest, with the proceeds going to pay for the speakers. Carothers also said that the Foundation has a list of approved speakers and only those speakers can speak on the circuit. Schools can request an unapproved speaker and file for approval if they wish.

Carothers expressed concern with the low student turnout but felt that the class visitations by Dr. Schweitzer allowed students exposure to his lectures. Schweitzer, and other visiting Staley scholars, also hold small group dialogues to talk with the people on campus.

The Staley Lectures have been held on the Meredith campus for over a decade.
