The museum cafe

by Sylvia Bass

Where can you find both outstanding art collections and excellent cuisine in the same building? When a friend and I had lunch at the Museum Cafe, we discovered a place that provides both. The Museum Cafe is located in the lower level of the North Carolina Museum of Art on Blue Ridge Road.

My luncheon companion and I found the decor pleasing. The dining room is decorated in soft purple and gray. The large expanses of glass and the green plants give the room an open and airy feeling. An especially nice touch is the fresh flowers on every table.

The menu is limited; however, with the exception of a few items, it varies each day. There are only three appetizers: a soup of the day, salad, or country pate with cornichons. We tried the soup, New England clam chowder and the pate. The clam chowder ($1.50 for a cup, $2.50 for a bowl) was delicious and just the consistency I like, thick but not like a stew. The country pate with cornichons ($2.00) was the usual liver pate, and the cornichons were French pickles. Neither my friend nor I enjoyed the pate.

Three of the entrees are standard items on the menu. These are eggs Florentine gratinee ($4.90), artist's club sandwich ($4.50) and the gallery burger ($4.50). Our selections were two of the three special entrees that are offered each day. One choice, the "Palette Pleaser," was a filleted chicken breast filled with cream cheese, green onions, and spices, lightly coated with buttered bread crumbs, and baked. This entree was served with parsleyed potatoes and sauteed squash ($5.95). Our other choice, "Still-Life Fantasy," was a pasta salad with walnuts and a special sweet and sour dressing. The salad came with a three-bean salad and rolls ($4.50). The third entree, baked flounder with bechamel sauce ($4.95), was called "Fish Market Special." Both of the entrees we chose were excellent.

Dessert lovers will enjoy the tempting array of sweets. The pastry cart has eight selections from which to choose. In addition to the pastry cart ($2.25), there are ice creams, ($1.50), chilled fruit cup ($1.50), or fruit and cheese platter ($1.95). We chose Black Forest cake and strawberry trifle. The cake was not very moist, but the traditional rich chocolate, and cherry flavors were good. The trifle was delicious and everything a trifle should be, rich and creamy custard, sweet and juicy strawberries, and moist cake pieces. The unexpected addition of kiwi fruit added just the right touch of tartness.

The Museum Cafe is open for lunch Wednesday through Saturday from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. prices vary from $1.50 to $5.95. Tea is served Wednesday through Sunday from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.; prices are $2.95 per person or $4.95 for two people. Dinner is served only Friday evening from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. The price of $12.95 includes a salad and/or vegetables and sometimes dessert. Entertainment is provided at dinner. Sunday buffet available from 12:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. for $10.95. Reservations are accepted although they are not considered necessary. Dress is casual.

The service was excellent. Our waiter was courteous and efficient. He willingly answered my many questions about the cafe. Lunch was a very pleasant experience, and I look forward to return to the Museum Cafe
