HALLOWEEN

It was 7:10 A.M. on October 31st. when all work stopped at W & J Rives and the activities for Halloween began. Nancy McNeill, our Office Manager arranged for some mighty special visitors to set our mood for the ghost and goblin night. Among the celebrities we were pleased to meet were "Charro", the heavenly goochie-goochie girl herself. Fred Flintstone came by for awhile to enjoy our fun. Raggedy Ann and Andy for the young at heart came by, hand in hand. We were entertained by lots of clowns and scared by this hooded thing. Little Red Riding Hood skipped by with all of her splendor to say hello. A few pioneer women came by just for fun and we even had a scare crow and hobo stop by for a job and joined in on our good time.

At last, around 7:30 A.M. our celebration of a year to year tradition slowed down and work resumed; however, the mood of fun continued and our spirits were, indeed, lifted by the smiles we saw on everyone's faces.

THE EDITOR SPEAKS:

We, the employees, would like to take this opportunity to thank Warren and Jeff for making this newsletter possible and, as the Editor, I would like to thank everyone who has helped me in making it a reality.

Hopefully, by having a monthly paper, it will bring all of us close together and make W & J Rives a better company.

If you have any suggestions on something that you would like to have in your newsletter, please put it in the box marked "Newsletter" which is in the lunch room. THANK YOU!!!!

Anna Russell
