

As a part of the preparation, the North Carolina Marine Resources gave to the town a large wall-sized map on which to chart the course of this and all other storms. In addition, the town acquired a 3 KW gasoline powered generator to supply power for the headquarters in the Town Hall. In addition, members of the fire department with their equipment, and the rescue squad on duty were mobilized, but happily were not called upon. Although this was a close call, residents should not drop their guard in these matters and are urged by Director McAnaw to heed the warnings of such storms as they are issued.

TRAFFIC DIRECTORS

WITH FIRE DEPT.

After a short, but intensive, instruction session in the control of motor traffic conducted by the PKS police department, six traffic directors were added to the fire department. They are Scott Cuthill, George Eastland, Mel Wylie, Dan Vaughn and Mary Catherine and Kerney Smith. They will assist the fire department in traffic control by rerouting traffic around the blaze and prevent tie-ups that could hinder the arrival of fire and emergency equipment. The group also will assist in the event of major accidents or other civil commotion where their services could be of use. They are equipped with reflective vests, white hard hats and electric flashlight batons. The cooperation of all residents with these people at the scene of fires or accidents is essential and will be appreciated.

WELCOME

Our roving reporter, Ann Hitch, visited with some of our newer residents this month. Here they are:

TO PKS!

Winston and Nellie Seale are settling in at the end of Beechwood Drive. Winston was born in Barbados and Nellie in Norway. They have moved here from Babylon, New York, and he expects to retire in about a year. Nellie is an antiquing fan and decorator, while he enjoys all water activities. They enjoy traveling and visiting their children in Florida, New Jersey and North Carolina.

John and Betty Heckman have moved into their new home at 125 Dogwood Circle and hail from Pittsburgh, Pa. Betty is a certified Brailist, while John enjoys gardening, reading and working with his hands. Their sons are in South Carolina, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

At 143 Loblolly Drive are Harry and Libby Schlimper, of Baldwin, Long Island. They also had a summer home on Fire Island. Harry enjoys fishing, sailing and gardening, while Libby works at painting, sewing and also gardening.

The Rowans, of 12 Oakleaf Drive, are happy in their lovely new home. They are plant lovers and through a large picture window you see a room full of greenery. Charles retired from the Army in 1964 and then became Deputy Director of Army Emergency Relief. Home has been the Solomon Islands and Maryland, where they sailed on Chesapeake Bay. Charles is an amateur photographer, while Mary enjoys the organ and her flowers, and they both play golf.

On Loblolly Drive are Brad and Margaret SMith, who moved here from Cos Cob, Conn. He is retired from American Can Co., and enjoys trying his hand at golf, tennis, fishing and woodworking. Margaret enjoys cooking and sewing. They have two children in Connecticut.
