

OUR NEW

NEIGHBORS

Joan and Fred Libby moved to 145 Mimosa on April 2nd from Penfield, a suburb of Rochester, New York. He had been Supervisor of Vocational Training for Eastman Kodak and gentleman farmer and hog raiser. He is a retired commander in the active and reserve Navy. Sailing, golf, and fixing things around the house are his interests now. Joan was trained as a teacher, but worked as a medical assistant, worked in a jewelry store, is an EMT and ambulance driver. She has been an instructor-trainer for CPR for the American Heart Association. She likes tennis, bridge, needlepoint and reading. She has collected antique trinket boxes, made needlepoint chair covers, rugs, and pillows. "We're going to get into fishing". Fred has been coming here since 1968. They celebrated their third wedding anniversary on April 29. Soon they will bring TEHO (to each his own), their sloop-rigged motor sailer down here from Lake Ontario. They have a daughter in Massachusetts, another in Texas, one son in Conn. , another in Utah and a third one in Idaho. Fred is a native of Maine, graduate of U.of Maine in engineering physics. Joan is a native of Buffalo and a graduate of Wheelock.

Nancy and Charles Shelton, originally from Greensboro, came to 112 Juniper Road by way of Georgetown, South Carolina and Swansboro. They were looking around in order to build or buy a house. They liked Pine Knoll Shores. They bought an unfinished house, completed it, and moved in the middle of March. He is a car salesman with Mitchner Ford and has been in the auto business since 1963. Golf and working in the yard are his hobbies. Nancy likes bridge, works in ceramics and gardens. Both love to fish. They have a daughter in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, another in Atlanta and one son in Georgetown, South Carolina. They are expecting their first grandchild the end of June. They recently celebrated their 13th anniversary.

Jettie Kistler built a house at 279 Oakleaf Drive and moved into it about three months ago. Formerly she had lived in Mooresville, N. C. She has been coming here to fish for the past 10 years. She went to barber school in Winston-Salem. She has a shop on the Causeway near the traffic light. She cuts ladies and men's hair. She is an avid sports fan and likes to garden. Her sister, Audrey Caskey, lives with her. One daughter, Doris Jean has a doctorate in psychology, is teaching and doing research at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois. A second daughter, Elaine works with retarded children at Western Carolina Center, Morganton, N. C. . . . Olga Hedrick

THIS 'N

THAT

Members of the Pine Knoll Shores Fire Department have asked that their thanks and appreciation be extended to the Rescue Squad members and the neighbors on Willow Road who so kindly supplied drinking water and coffee for the firemen during the recent fire . . . Paintings by John Elder are on exhibit at the Marine Resources Center, most of which are in oil and include several "wood silhouettes." The display is attracting considerable attention. . . .Also the Marine Resources Center announces the Fifth Annual Nature Photo Competition, to be held in June. Entries must be delivered to the Center on June 4,5,or 6. For more information, call the Center at 726-0121, or write to the Marine Resources Center/ Bogue Banks, Pine Knoll Shores, Atlantic Beach, N. C. 28512. . . . The Marine Resources Center once again is enlisting help from volunteers to man the information booth, sales booth and library this summer. For those interested in assisting in this most worth while effort get in touch with Mark Joyner, at the center. Hours of work will be 1 to 5 daily. A special orientation class will be held for volunteers at 7:30 p.m., Monday, June 8. . . .