

Other films to be shown this month include "Nature's Half Acre", and on July 31, the film "Mystery of the Deep".

On July 19, puppeteer and ventriloquist Mary Ann Delmar will present a special program, and on July 24, Jay Barnes, a local surfer, will illustrate how to have fun on a surf board the safe way.

All during July the participating libraries in North Carolina will register children for the Summer Reading Program. Children are invited to come to the Bogue Banks Library to register. Suggested books to be read to complete the program should be concerned with travel, biography, science, history and fairy tales. Certificates will be awarded to those who read ten books in these areas.

OUR NEW Hope and Al Baughan live at Loblolly Drive. They come from Columbus, Ohio, where they had a store, Lombard's Interiors, dealing in fine furniture. NEIGHBORS Much of it came from North Carolina. Temporarily they lived at the Breakers while looking around for a place to retire. They started coming here about twelve years ago. Hope has a sister, Mrs. Dan Fredrick, living in Mitchell Village. Al is a beach lover, a spectator sportsman and enjoys tennis. Hope was a free-lance designer of interiors and still has a business of her own. She is a volunteer at the Bogue Banks Library. Her interests, besides interior decorating are cooking, gardening and children. Hope and Al had been foster parents for a couple of years. They have three children, a daughter and two sons. The younger son is teaching math and physics at a new university in the Republic of South Africa.

Yola and Ken Hanan. recently moved to 111 Beechwood Drive from Chatham, New Jersey. This was their 34th trip here. They made their first trip in 1972, after reading about Pine Knoll Shores in the Wall Street Journal. They came to look, not intending to buy anything, but ended up buying a lot on the first trip. For 15 years Ken had been editor of Constructioneer, a heavy construction magazine, and the Mid-Atlantic Trucker. A U. of Michigan graduate in civil engineering, previously he worked in heavy construction. Ken plays the piano, likes sailing, canoeing, fishing and gardening. He had an interest in antique cars, and at one time owned a 1924 Buick. He plans to join the Rescue Squad. Yola is a native of New Orleans and a graduate of Tulane University. She retired recently after teaching first grade in an elementary school in Livingston for 23 years. When she retired, she was honored with 11 parties and a "Mrs. Hanan Day". She was given an original book written by her students. Former students she had taught came back for the day. Her favorite hobby is gardening. She also mentioned, "One of our interests will be entertaining all the friends who are expecting to visit us." Both enjoy square dancing. They have a 14 year old Welsh terrier named Morgan.

Ruth and Wally Smith live at 132 Juniper Road. They came from Lansdale, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia. Wally retired as Vice President of industrial sales of Globe Hoist Division of Symington-Wayne Corporation. He enjoys golf, wood working, making and refinishing furniture and doing work around the house. Ruth also enjoys golf, plus swimming, needle point, gardening and reading. Both play bridge. Their son, Wally, III, is a dentist in the Coast Guard with the rank of Commander. He had been stationed at Ft. Macon and now is in Elizabeth City, N. C. A daughter lives in Pennsylvania and works in the computer division of General Signal. They have three grandchildren. While their son was stationed in this area, they visited here, liked it and decided to retire here. - Olga Hedrick
