

George and Louise Meyer of 131 Yaupon are among the young at heart. George was required to retire at age 65, but found a new career as Supervisor of Sales and Distribution for Coffee Caterers Inc. at Long Branch, N. J. George loves people and loved associating with all he met.

After eleven or twelve years of employment with Coffee Caterers, George retired a second time to come to PKS. He enjoys reading and football games. Louise is interested in flowers, gardening, sewing, knitting and crocheting. Louise is also a pretty good bowler and a substitute for the Ancient Mariners.

The Meyer's nine year old female Cairn Terrier, named Bambi, is companion to George and Louise. Their daughter Patricia with husband Robert, and grand-daughter, Adrian Bradley live close by on Cedar Road. A daughter, Jacque, lives in Smithfield and another daughter named Pam lives in Little Washington. Only their three sons; Greg, Glen and Gary remain in New Jersey.

Believe it or not! George is undecided yet about remaining totally retired.

-----

Duncan and Lee Dawkins and daughter Alicia, who have settled into their lovely home at 126 Arborvitae, are welcome additions to Pine Knoll Shores. Two-year old Alicia has already captured the hearts of neighbors.

A native of North Carolina, Duncan graduated from the University of North Carolina at Wilmington with a degree in electrical engineering.

While Duncan was attached to the National Marine Fisheries he fell in love with Carteret County. He is a federal employee of the Department of Research and Defense, so when he was assigned to the Air Station at Cherry Point his dream of coming back to this area was realized.

Lee is interested in real estate. Both Lee and Duncan are enthusiastic scuba divers. They appreciate boating, sailing and fishing, but most of all, love rearing little Alicia.

-----

For those who do not know: Ed and Helen Olsen, formerly of the Breakers, are now living at 121 Arborvitae.

ETHEL HOYT

-----o0o-----

Readers will notice that Ethel Hoyt is taking over the Our New Neighbors column which has been handled so well for many months by Mary Korff. Mary, who recently was appointed chairman of the Board of Adjustment, had asked that she be relieved of responsibility for the column.

-----o0o-----

Pine Knoll Shores Women's Club will meet at 10 a.m. on Friday, October 26, at the Town Hall. The Big Star Market will present a program on "Getting The Most For Your Food Dollar." This is your opportunity to question the availability of your favorite product in this area.

-----

Corinne Geer, Pine Knoll Shores' efficient municipal clerk, is bent on making herself even more that way. Corinne has begun a course on municipal management given by the Institute of Government at the University of North Carolina. She will be in Chapel Hill for her classes three days each month through next May.

-----