

William has his own business here. He is available for home repairs, general maintenance, small improvement, lawn jobs or whatever you want done that he is able to do.

Both William and Jill are training to become emergency medical technicians.

Jill works at Blue Bell in inventory control. When not working, she enjoys needlework and reading. The two of them enjoy the beach, fishing, boating and water skiing.

Welcome to Clem and Sue Ellen Williams. They are living at the Breakers at Westport. They came to Pine Knoll Shores from Bethel, N. C. and are North Carolina natives. Clem came from Raleigh. Sue Ellen was a native of Bethel. The Williams graduated from ECU and followed their professional careers in Bethel, until Clem became assistant principal at East Carteret High School.

Sue Ellen is teaching fifth grade at the Morehead Elementary School. Besides her teaching duties, she keeps a busy schedule following the activities of their two children, a ten year old son named David, a fifth grader who is quite interested in the Webelos, and a six year old daughter Carrie, a first grader, who is a Brownie.

Many PKS driveways are topped with gravel which often washes into the street causing "wash board" effects and street damage. Property owners are requested to check their driveway entrance and to sweep or rake loose gravel back onto their property.

The Ancient Mariners Bowling League of Pine Knoll Shores has gotten off to a bright start for this season at the new Carteret Lanes in Morehead City. Under the leadership of president Bob Herbst; vice-president Virginia Greata; treasurer George Hitch and secretary Arnold Smith, the 14 teams, of 4 members each, bowled in October. Bill Granger's team took the lead with Larry Jerome's team in second place. We already have two men, George Broadstreet and Arnold Smith with games over 200. The ladies are not far behind. Connie Browne has scored a 182 and Jane Broadstreet a 180.

AT NEW LANES

Although we all bowl "for the fun of it," we still hope to see some of these good numbers for ourselves.

The Pine Knoll Shores Women's Club has scheduled a Christmas luncheon for Friday, December 7 rather than holding its regular 4th Friday meeting in the holiday season. The lunch will be held at the Beaufort House at 12:00 noon and will cost $6.50 inclusive. Husbands are welcome. Reservations and payment should be made to Wanda Lettan, 107 Walnut Circle, phone 247-2343, by November 30. Make your check payable to the Beaufort House Restaurant. Like the Cheese-Tasting lunch at the Village Wine and Cheese Store on November 8, this will be a fun occasion.
