

There are some interesting statistics which came out of this season, and are considerably improved from previous seasons. 16 bowlers, including two gals, broke the 200-pin game barrier, some once, some twice, some quite a few times. And 19 bowlers, including three gals, had 500-plus series. George Broadstreet, Bob Gallo and Bob Herbst led this group, managing to repeat the feat up to a dozen times each. The "Ancient" in our title in no way reflects lack of talent and capability.

Vern Wallace, assisted by Audrey Hoffmeyer, Jane Broadstreet and Millie Herbst, did a first-rate job in planning and coordinating the banquet. Your efforts, ladies, are much appreciated. Mike's Restaurant, the caterer, provided a delicious and more-than-adequate sit-down roast beef dinner.

So, with the conclusion of the bowling season, we'll be signing off, so to speak, for the Ancient Mariners until balls and pins once again clash with each other come Fall. Hey, bowlers, do enjoy the off-season.

GARDEN CLUB NEWS

The Pine Knoll Shores Garden Club was recognized for its civic achievements at the State Convention held in Wilmington, N. C. in April. At that time The Katie B. Hines Horticulture award was presented to Pine Knoll Shores by The Garden Club of North Carolina, Inc. Mrs. Betty Gray, President of the Pine Knoll Shores Garden Club accepted the award. Six members of Pine Knoll Shores Garden Club attended the convention.

The award was the culmination of several years of plant care at the North Carolina Aquarium. Mary Rowan, a former member of the Garden Club, and volunteers of the Club handle all the care and maintenance of the indoor plants at the Aquarium. The Club also contributes monetarily to continue this maintenance.

Volunteers who contributed their Monday mornings this past year include: Jean Hileman, Penny McAnaw, Shirley Hargroves, Kit Blissert, Lenora Roberson, Lois Jean O'Keefe, Joan Dawson, Yola Hanan, Mildred Kerr, Helen Granger, Irene Doremus, Jeanne Umbarger, Dorothy Panagakos, Vivian Macdonald and Audrey Hoffmeyer.

The final meeting of the 1986-1987 season will be held on June 10 at Trinity Center at noon. All former Pine Knoll Shores Garden Club members are invited to attend. The cost is $7.50. Please call Ruth Kane [247-4054] for reservations.
