

FROM THE AQUARIUM

The Sea Turtle Stranding volunteer program has begun with many Pine Knoll Shores volunteers responding. Some will walk assigned sections of the beach in the early morning looking for turtle nests and others will be on call to go to the scene if a turtle has been found on the beach. Stuart May, Aquarium Coordinator, and Gayle Piner, Aquarium Assistant, are in charge of the program.

The turtles will start nesting any day now and the hatchlings will emerge between 62 and 85 days later. If a nest is located, steps can be taken to help protect the hatchlings when they appear, so that as many as possible will make it to the ocean.

The film and slide programs held at 2:00 and 3:00 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays will continue through May as well as the Friday "ON BOARD" cruises for which you must register. Many other interesting events are coming up so watch for them.
