FIRST WOMAN MAYOR ELECTED

Mary Kanyha became the first woman Mayor of Pine Knoll Shores by unanimous vote of the Board of Commissioners. Prior to Ms. Kanyha's appointment, David Hasulak advised that he would decline the position of Mayor in the interest of preserving harmony on the Board which would be best for the Town. After the swearing in of the newly elected Commissioners, department responsibilities were assigned. Robert Gallo will remain as Finance Commissioner, Dave Hasulak will continue as fire, Rescue and Civil Preparedness Commissioner, Lee Blanchard will remain as Commissioner of Streets and Public Property, Reese Musgrave will become Commissioner of Police and Richard Schultz, Commissioner of Planning and Inspections.

The Commissioners' meeting was attended by an overflow crowd of residents as Ken Hanan gaveled the meeting to order as his last official act as Mayor.

A short Public Meeting was held to discuss changes in the ordinance concerning tree removal, cleaning of property and adding to a list of shrubs designated as protection of our dune area.

Commissioner Blanchard reported on the residential driveways that cause gravel to spill into town streets. He requests that residents clean any driveway gravel on town roadways.

Commissioner Gallo stated that revenues for November were $81,725 which is down slightly from budget projections. Expenditures were $69,293 which is short of budget. If this ratio of revenues to expenditures continues, the budget shortfall will be minimal. Mr. Gallo anticipates tax collections will increase in December as residents rush to avoid any late payment penalties. Mr. Gallo presented a budget amendment to allow for payment of $85,000 to the White Construction Co. for contractual work proposed in the swale water drainage project.
