

Beacon's Reach

Beyond meeting the state's requirements, the new wastewater treatment plant will enable Beacon's Reach to better capture the treated effluent for use in watering the extensive common green and garden areas in the development. While Beacon's Reach has been using such effluent to water its greenery since 1998, the new plant will allow for a more efficient and effective use of it in keeping the development's grounds looking beautiful.

one light do where two may otherwise be needed. Previous tips covered the use of energy efficient compact fluorescent lights (CFLs), having home heating, air conditioning and ventilating systems serviced and changing filters regularly, and using electric cooking appliances efficiently, particularly when preparing those big holiday meals.

Carteret-Craven Electric Coop and every electric provider in North Carolina are under a state mandate to help reduce the nation's dependence on foreign energy sources through development of alternative energy programs and efficient use of traditional resources.

For the record, the average kilowatt hours per day electrical usage in PKS in the October period this year was 109,091 as opposed to 131,458 in October, 2007.

Schedule Performance Of Handel's Messiah

Conductor James Ogle returns to New Bern for the 26th anniversary performance of George Frederick Handel's Messiah on Monday, December 15. There will be two performances. At 3 p.m. an open rehearsal is scheduled, with tickets at $15. The dress performance is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. with tickets at $20. The performance features the 130-member Craven Messiah Chorus made-up of singers from Beaufort, Craven, Carteret, Pamlico, Jones, and Wayne counties. Accompanying the singers will be an orchestra composed of members of the North Carolina Symphony, many whom return to New Bern each year for this occasion. Both performances are held at the Centenary United Methodist Church at the corner of Middle and New Streets in downtown New Bern. Tickets can be purchased by calling 1-866-292-4192.
