

Used Book Sale

By Dot Miller

Members of the Friends Board of the Bogue Banks Public Library are searching around on their own shelves and those of their friends for books to donate to the semi-annual used book sale, to be held this spring on April 1 and 2. Here's a chance to reclaim one-third of your shelves for something other than books, as an interior designer recently suggested.

The drive for books will extend through March, and contributions may be delivered to the library at 320 Salter Path Road, just west of the Public Safety Building. The library is open Mondays through Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. For further information, call 247-4660.

The spring used book sale will be held at Shepherd of the Sea Lutheran Church, 201 East Fort Macon Road. On Friday April 1, for Friends of the Library only, hours will be from 7 p.m. until 8 p.m. The general public will be welcomed Saturday April 2, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Most books will sell for $1.00 or less, with some 2010-2011 editions for $5.00, a tremendous bargain. Children's books, videos, CDs and puzzles will also be available.

Jack Goldstein: Man of Many Talents

By Barbara Milhaven

Jack Goldstein, an early resident of Pine Knoll Shores, is a man of many talents with a varied career and a passionate interest in promoting tourism and beach nourishment. He attended UNC at Chapel Hill, but his work career did not follow the path of his studies. Jack has served on many committees and boards, given of his time and energy to community service and received many, many awards from communities and the state. In 2008, he received the ultimate tribute, The Order of Long Leaf Pine. This award, authorized by the Governor of North Carolina and presented to Jack Goldstein by Senator Jean Preston, is among the most prestigious awards in the state, and in this case, it honors a person who has given exemplary service for over 30 years.
