

Bud Pitzer briefs volunteers and homeowners during the Homes Tour practice run. Thanks to the generosity of homeowners for opening their homes and volunteers for giving their time to act as guides, the first-ever Homes Tour went off without a hitch.

—Photos by Dan Law

An evening at the NC Aquarium at Pine Knoll Shores. Left to right: The chow line never shortened all night as attendees enjoyed the aquarium, but all "roads" led to the Tidal Gallery for the silent auction and to the live auction in the Big Rock Theater. It was a f

The bike ride was started by Mayor Ken Jones with a bugle salute and led through the streets by Bill Keefe and James Halterman on their decorated motorcycles. Participants were able to choose to do a 5k or 10k ride.

The U.S. Coast Guard provided an Honor Guard to begin the day's activities on Saturday. On hand were FN Derrick Ibarra, YN2 Jennifer Hassan, SK1 Ahmad Hassan and YN3 Crystal Walker.

Starbucks not only brought the morning coffee but also entered the kayak race for the first time. Tom Del... (yellow shirt) says their team will be a part of this years to come.

Warrior Winner James Castellow (left), pictured with his son, Brighton, his mother-in-law, Sally Carbrey, and Justin Henry of Hope for the Warriors® in Jacksonville, NC.

—Photo by Teresa Stanton-Law

KAYAK
for the
WARRIORS

Haley Moccia of Pine Knoll Shores (left, wearing blue vest and headband) won the Women's 21 and Under category, beating her mother's time by 20 seconds.—Photo by Teresa Stanton-Law

Winner of the Men's 22 to 64 category, Ray Bow... City was the first into the canals and never looked back. He won the race the last three years.—Photo by Teresa Stanton-Law

This Chinese Dragon Boat, built by... (on the left) and Bill and Tina... won the family fun race and... Knoll Shores Rubber Duck Award... by Emma Bradley and Andy... assistance of several dance instructors... Dance Studio