Michael Nardozzi exhibits in Mattie King Davis Art Gallery

The Mattie King Davis Art Gallery, located at the Beaufort Historic Site at 100 Block Turner Street in Beaufort, featured artist Michael Nardozzi during August, and will continue to do so through September. Self-taught and fueled by a powerful imagination, Mr. Nardozzi explores all art mediums and styles. His work is inspired by his fascination with natural light and the dramatic mood it creates in our everyday world. His paintings cover many art forms, including realism, land and seascapes, still life, fantasy art, impressionism, abstract and contemporary. He explores them all, even creating three-dimensional metal sculptures.

Mr. Nardozzi has teamed up with his wife, Bari, and they can be found collaborating on their latest piece of art at their gallery, The Path, in Salter Path. Visit michaelfineart.com to view examples of their work.

The Nardozzis are both from eastern North Carolina. Thirteen years ago, they moved to Maui, Hawaii, sight unseen, on "their path." While in the islands, their art was embraced by the art community, and then the mainland, and has now been collected both nationally and internationally. Steven Tyler of Aerosmith is a Nardozzi collector.

But, as the saying goes, "Every path leads home." While the Nardozzis continue to live in Hawaii, they can be found in Carteret County every spring and summer enjoying time with their family and friends and working in their art gallery.

The Mattie King Davis Art Gallery is the oldest gallery in Carteret County and exhibits the work of over 100 local and regional artists. Gallery proceeds benefit the ongoing educational and restoration projects at the Beaufort Historic Site. For more information on Mr. Nardozzi's continuing show, call 728-5225, stop by the Mattie King Davis Art Gallery Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., or visit beauforthistoricsite.org.
