

Facts and Fancies from Fieldale

Hosiery Mill

By Gertrude Minter

Dear Boys:

Here are some familiar happenings I thought you might be interested in: Coy Campbell of Dale theatre still doing a flourishing business on the Friday and Saturday night double features.

Rev. Ralph Yow and family moving from Second street to Eighth street in the former Bowie house.

The Health League and Home Demonstration club having a picnic.

Vernon Wood, Frank Bradley, Johnny Tilley, Tom Padgett, Hobart Gusler all visiting here from the Army and Navy.

Marie Hedgecock and Rowena Shaw starting to choir practice.

Kathleen Dalrymple home from North Wilkesboro where she visited Mrs. Harry Dalrymple.

Mrs. Grover Overby back home from a visit with relatives in Ohio.

Anne Merriman and Mrs. Minter attending that Association.

Cy Looney getting his picture in the paper.

Emory Goode enjoying the children's playground.

Inez W. Stultz accepting a position with Rose's Five and Ten.

J. W. Norris, Jr., Billy Setliff and Juanita Yow returning from Ferrum college where they attended a Youth Fellowship meeting.

Margaret Nester enjoying that week's visit with friends in Norfolk.

Miss Anna Stultz of High Point, N. C. shaking hands with friends here on a recent visit.

Derwood Merriman and Carles Sawyers getting ready to take that trip to Roanoke.

Melvin Gourley seen purchasing that nightly Coca-Cola.

Mabel Looney with that bunch of flowers in her hair.

Alonzo Beheler and Booker Dalton driving those "A" models.

Bob Taylor and Stormy Joyce with those G I haircuts.

Frances Hundley knocking that home run.

Ned Gauldin looking at those pictures of himself.

Yours truly trying to find some news that you would be interested in.

Bye Now,

GERTRUDE.

V . . . —

The modern home is one in which the switch regulates everything but the children.

Towel Mill

By Elizabeth Joyce

Dear Boys:

Since you aren't around to find out the goings on of this burg, I've been doing some snooping for you and these are the highlights of the past two weeks.

Pvt. Vernon Wood home from New York still wearing that moustache.

Navy boys in town include Frank Bradley, J. D. Nester, Tom Padgett, Roy Hopkins, Clarence Padgett, Joe Shelton, Dick Hager, Odis Tillie and Johnnie Tillie.

S/Sgt. "Red" Stegall, from Martinsville, and North Africa, visited relatives in Fieldale while on furlough.

Frank Hartis, of the U. S. Navy, getting himself a bride while home on furlough.

Becky Tipton home from the hospital.

J. H. Pickup "rooting" for the sewing room football team.

"Doc" May still closing up at nine o'clock.

Everybody looking forward to a nice pay day this week.

Marjorie Correll Wade all smiles over that visit from her husband, Russell.

Cpls. John Adkins and "Whitie" Lyons home for a week.

Boys, can you imagine Rob Joyce being a proud pappy-in-law?

The Amoma class entertaining the war widows at a picnic Saturday evening.

Emory Hundley umpiring a softball game between Fieldale and DuPont.

George Merriman working too hard and being placed under Dr. Rucker's care.

Ernest Self being promoted to MM1/C.

Pfc. Leslie Slocum being shipped to the West Coast.

Curtis Padgett arriving safely in England.

Billy Harrington of the U. S. Navy sending greetings to the packing department.

Until I get going again . . .

Best of Luck.

"DUNKIE."

V . . . —

The Irishman foreman of the road gang found one of his men sleeping in the shade.

"Slape on, ye idle spalpeen," he said, "slape on. So long as ye slape, we've got a job; but whin ye wake up, ye're out of work."

Central Warehouse

By Maybud Stanley

H. D. Hopkins, of the U. S. Navy left Wednesday for Key West, Fla., after spending three weeks with his mother, Mrs. Irva Hopkins, Railroad street.

Elmer Boyd returned to work this morning after taking two weeks' vacation. We are all glad to have him back with us.

Mrs. Myrtle Brown is back at work this morning after being on the sick list last week.

Moir Dale Hylton of Little Creek, Va., spent the week-end with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boone, Walnut street.

Miss Treva Thompson and Miss Marian Reynolds were the Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Irva Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stanley were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ashworth Sunday.

SUPT. E. E. SYMS

Supt. E. E. Syms of the Spray Woolen Mill carefully examines a blanket that is in process of inspection. Supt. Syms has some difficulty in concealing his pride in the work of his employees and we see no reason why he shouldn't be proud. Also of his own efforts.

TOOTS

(Continued From Page Four)

on the floor beside my bed—something that hadn't happened to me since I was a kid. I got up sheepishly, glad that no one had seen me, looked at the clock and realized I'd have to hurry to get to work on time. Then (heavenly thought!) I realized I was really on vacation. So back into bed I jumped and dropped off to sleep hoping that I could have another wonderful dream.