That's For Sure!

Son: Mother, do angels have wings,
Mother: Yes, dear.
Son: Daddy said nurse was an angel.
When will she fly?
Mother: Tomorrow morning.

Neat Trick

A young lady and her aunt, returning home from work on pay day, were relieved of their money by a stick-up man. The young lady rushed over to the nearest policeman and exclaimed, "I've been robbed of my pay and my aunt's pay."

"Cut out the pig Latin and tell me what happened," the copper ordered.

Dense Fog

Husband (answering telephone): I don't know—call the weather bureau.
Pretty Young Wife: Who was that?
Husband: Some sailor, I guess. He asked if the coast was clear.

Mrs. X, who has two sons in the Marines and a daughter in the WAC, was visiting a farm when she came upon a youth of draft age milking a cow.

"Young man," she asked sternly, "why aren't you at the front?"

"Cause there ain't any milk at that end, missus," was the calm reply.

He: The first time you contradict me I'm going to kiss you.

She: You are not.

Folks, you are now looking at "Miss Marshall Field 1964" or else we've lost our gift of picking 'em. Isn't she a fine little lady—this granddaughter of William Pierce, manager of Blanket Department at our Worth Street offices? After a good long look at this picture we understand what Wig meant when he wrote something about "Bill Pierce is losing some buttons from his vest."

Heard in an English air raid shelter: "Is there a mackintosh in here that's large enough to keep two young ladies warm?"

"No, but there's a MacPherson who's willing to try," was the reply from a dark corner."
