

ON THE JOB
FOR UNCLE SAM

A Corner For Our Boys in the Armed Forces.

Pfc. Sherman Almond, Pfc. James Almond, and Pfc. Roy Riddle, upper right. Sherman, better known as Toby, and James, who is called Buzz by his friends, are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley Almond, of Spray, and Pvt. Riddle is a brother of Mrs. Almond. Toby, in service for two years, is with an engineering division in India; Buzz in service almost one year, is now located at Dyersburg, Tenn. The whereabouts of Roy are unknown.

Pfc. Lawson Talbott as he looks on his overseas job today. Few of his hundreds of friends will recognize "Lawson" so we'll call him by a name you will remember—"Choke" Talbott, and you'd know him better in a baseball or basketball uniform, wouldn't you?

Scaman Tommy Nelson, of Draper, who writes that he is getting along fine and likes the Navy. Tommy is a member of the crew of one of our crack battleships and you can get his address by writing us. Good luck, sailor.

Billy D. Rickman, S 2/C, son of Mrs. Emma Rickman, has been in service about six months, and was formerly employed at Karastan Mill. He's finished his boot training at Bainbridge and is now on duty somewhere on the seas. Has two brothers in the Navy, Herman and James.

Say, fellows, how about dropping us a card giving your present address? We're getting back an awful lot of Mill Whistles with the words "A.P.O. Discontinued" stamped on the envelope. Maybe your present A.P.O. has been discontinued and we'd like to have your newest one. Thanks.
