Lots of good news this week, but honest, some folks are so modest they just don't like to see their name in headlines as "Scrubby" calls it.

Glenn, you and Virgie had better hold the line. Cascade may call again. Bet all that is very interesting, huh!

Who's the fellow in the Card Room who knows a good fox hole when he sees it?

Gertrude certainly has had a time. Been out in them thar hills of West Virginia.

Hurry back, Mary Ruth, we miss you lots and hope you will be well real soon.

Tom Betts, you ought to be shot. Next time you'd better use a flashlight when getting out of your car.

It's a pleasure to welcome Marie

Sedell and Edna Hailey to our office force. Lillian, we hope you'll enjoy your new work too.

Got a real surprise when we got a V-Mail from Drewry Ray, somewhere in France. He wants all his friends to write. Says his mail is mighty slow in getting to him so let's all send him a little note at least so he and our other boys will know we are still pulling and thinking of them.

Who's that lazy crowd who called themselves squirrel hunting on Labor Day at Rob Ray's home?

Time to depart, but it won't be long 'till next time, let's hope.

Wedding bells. Miss Ollie E. Campbell and Cicero H. Hall were united in marriage on Wednesday evening, August 23. The ceremony was performed in the parsonage of the First Christian church by the bride's pastor, Rev. Joel E. Vause. After a week's wedding trip to Washington and Baltimore, the couple now reside at their home on the Ridgeway road. Mr. Hall is foreman of the cloth room and Mrs. Hall works in the entering department of the Rayon Mill.

Pvt. James Robert Turner, who took his basic training in Illinois, spent a delay in travel leave at home last week. Cpl. Onis D. Turner, of New River, N. C., also spent the week-end at home, this being the first time these brothers met in almost three years. Robert entered service a short time before Onis arrived home from the Pacific war zone. Onis has another brother in service, Cpl. Wallace D. Turner, now on maneuvers in Louisiana, whom he has not seen in three years. Boys, we are hoping you soon will get to see each other.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barton have received a letter from their son, Cpl. Carl H. (Bill) Barton, saying that he is now in France.
